LAST WEEK OF THE CONTEST

THE TIDE SET DEAD AGAINST TAMMANY.

MORE RESIGNATIONS FROM JOHN KELLY'S COMMITTEE—ENTHUSIASM OF THE OPPOSITION PARTIES—A CAMPAIGN ON THE OFFENSIVE—COMPLETE REVOLT AGAINST TAMMANY IN THE UP-TOWN DISTRICTS.

There is no possible doubt now how the tide is setting. When the campaign began to open and the Tammany ticket was made up, public opinion seemed to waver and even turn a little in its favor; but the attacks on Recorder Hackett and District Attorney Phelps disgusted thousands; then the Republicans and the Independent Democrats joined forces, minor differences were forgotten, a ticket of unimpeachable character was put forth, the canvass pressed with immense vigor and spirit, till now the tide of public opinion has so plainly set against the "one-man power" of Tammany Hall that not a doubt can be entertained of what the result will be. Mr. Kelly and his lieutenants perceive these signs of the times. The flooding of the City with pamphlets about Recorder Hackett, the sending of witnesses to the Assembly Investigating Committee to make charges against the District Attorney—charges which are utterly knocked to pieces within twenty-four hours of their being made—the attempt to muzzle the press by libel suits, the extortionate assessments of certain department employes, necessitated by the drain on the Tammany Committee's funds, the hiring of rowdies to break up opposition meetings—all these are evidences of how desperately John Kelly is struggling against the inevitable. He or his men seem to have more than half lost their wits, or they never would attempt to silence THE TIMES by so stupid a proceeding as setting on a man to bring a libel suit against it—and a suit based on a charge which was made more explicitly and directly two years ago—when he dared not deny it. Meanwhile, more defections from Tammany are daily reported. Its General Committee is rapidly dissolving into nothingness; the last resignations are those of Ambrose O'Neil, of the Second Assembly District, and Daniel Kennedy, of the First. They were given in yesterday, and to-day three more resignations are looked for. The City is alive with enthusiastic mass-meetings, all in opposition to the one-man power; the greatly advertised mass-meeting at the Wigwam turns out to be the poorest and tamest seen there in many years; Republican and Anti-Tammany meetings within half a dozen blocks are crowded, and the most trustworthy information from all the up-town districts represents the revolt there against John Kelly to be so wide-spread and deep as to fairly astonish the oldest politicians.

THE BOSS AT WORK.

AN EARLY SAMPLE OF HIS RULE—THE PRESS TO BE MUZZLED AS WELL AS THE JUDICIARY—A FLIMSY PRETEXT OF LIBEL THE EXCUSE—WHAT THE PEOPLE MAY EXPECT UNDER THE ONE-MAN RULE.

THE TIMES has been sued for libel by James T. King, who is now the Tammany candidate for Assembly in the Nineteenth District. This is not the first ~~occasion on~~ which Tammany politicians have threatened THE TIMES with fire and destruction through libel suits. Mr. King has taken umbrage at the republication of a copy of his check for $10,000, which he received from Tom Fields after the passage of the swindling Firemen's Claims bill. Whether Mr. King is acting on his own responsibility in this absurd proceeding, or whether he is simply the agent of some power behind, we must leave the public to decide. The following were the proceedings in court:

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

James T. King, the Tammany nominee for Assemblyman in the Nineteenth District, in company with Mr. Ecclesine, of the firm of Cottman & Ecclesine, appeared yesterday afternoon before Justice Duffy, at the Tombs Police Court, and applied for a warrant for the arrest of Mr. L. J. Jennings and Mr. George Jones, editors of THE TIMES, on a charge of libel. Immediately after the presentation of the affidavit of Mr. King, Justice Duffy summoned the complainant and his counsel into his private room, and there had an earnest conversation with them, in which he urged King to present his application for a warrant to the Justice at the Fifty-seventh Street Court. Mr. King's counsel, however, refused to consider the advice, and insisted upon Justice Duffy granting the warrant, at the same time threatening to obtain a mandamus in case he refused to comply with the demand. Under these circumstances Justice Duffy granted the warrant and intrusted it to the care of Officer Kiernan, of the Tombs Police Court, to be served this morning at 10 o'clock.

The determination of Mr. King to obtain the warrant on demand was so persistently and vehemently expressed by his counsel that curiosity was aroused to know the reason. It finally came out in questions of counsel, when the complainant had been sworn and the Justice was affixing his signature to the document. Said Mr. Ecclesine:

"Cannot your Honor have this warrant executed this evening?"

Justice Duffy (looking at the clock)—No; it is too late; it will be given to a court officer, and he will serve it early to-morrow morning.

Mr. Ecclesine (anxiously)—But, your Honor, may we say the warrant is issued?

Justice Duffy—It is issued from the moment I swore the complainant.

Mr. Ecclesine (with emphasis)—Because we want to say to our constituents TO-NIGHT that the warrant has been issued for this libel.

Following is a copy of the affidavit upon which the warrant was granted:

City and County of New-York, ss.—The information and complaint of James T. King, taken this 28th day of October, 1875, before the undersigned, one of the Justices of the Court of Special Sessions of the Peace in and for the City of New-York, who, being first duly sworn, sayeth:

That on the 28th day of October, 1875, at the City and County of New-York, Louis J. Jennings and George Jones, both residents of said City, did compose, print, and publish, and did cause to be composed, printed, and published, of and concerning the said complainant, James T. King, in a certain public newspaper printed and published in said City, and styled and entitled THE NEW-YORK TIMES a certain false, scandalous, and defamatory libel, in words and figures following, that is to say:

BAD MEN TO ELECT.

SOME OF THE TAMMANY CANDIDATES.

James T. King, [the said complainant meaning,] the Tammany candidate for Assemblyman in the Nineteenth District, was formerly, and is said to be still, a warm personal friend and adherent of "Tom" Fields. In 1870, when the latter succeeded in securing the passage of the so-called Firemen's Relief bill, by which $459,972 79 were paid to him as the pretended Assignee of certain fictitious claims, he gave $10,100 of the plunder to King, [the said complainant meaning.] The check by which the money was paid was drawn on the Nassau Bank, and reads as follows:

No. ——— NEW-YORK, June 23, 1871.
The Nassau Bank.
Pay to the order of James T. King, Ten Thousand One Hundred Dollars.
$10,100. THOMAS C. FIELDS.
[Indorsed, James T. King.]

The money was duly drawn by King, [the said complainant meaning,] and appropriated to his personal uses. King [the said complainant meaning] was also appointed by the Ring to the lucrative post of Commissioner for the widening of Ninety-seventh, Ninety-eighth, and Ninety-ninth streets. He was likewise engaged in lobbying through the Legislature one of Fields' jobs for draining the lots on the west side of the district with stone drains, ostensibly at the cost of the City, but in reality at that of the property-holders. He also aided in establishing the grade of the streets in the neighborhood of his property in such a way that the drainage from his own lots overflowed those of his neighbors. When Orange S. Winans, the Assemblyman who sold out the Republicans in 1871, came down to New-York at the close of the session he was dined and wined by King [the said complainant meaning] at the Boulevard Club against the wishes of the respectable members, and had the expense of entertaining the visitor charged to the club. After the arrest and exposure of Fields and Tweed King [the said complainant meaning] still worked and voted for them, and he is reputed to still keep up a correspondence with the former.

All of which words so printed and published, and caused to be printed and published, by said Jennings and Jones of and concerning said complainant were and are false, scandalous, and defamatory.

JAMES T. KING.

Sworn to before me this 28th day of October, 1875.
P. G. DUFFY, Police Justice.

This "libel," which Mr. King would have people believe he now sees for the first time, originally appeared in the news columns of THE TIMES on the 29th of October, 1873. In the issue of that date it appears in large type, in the first column of the first page—in fact in as conspicuous a position as it was possible to place it. It is true that the article was one intended to expose the complicity of another person than Mr. King in the Fields Fire Claims swindle; but the check was printed there just as it appeared in THE TIMES of yesterday—just as it appears in THE TIMES of this morning—and as it will perhaps appear in some other issues before Mr. King is suffered to forget the transaction. This gentleman did not then consider the publication in the light of a libel. He was named then as one of the confederates of Fields; as one of those who shared the plunder; but he said nothing. Mr. John C. Jacobs was named as one who had had a share with Fields, as shown by the checks. Mr. Jacobs immediately rushed into print to say that the check was in payment of a debt. Mr. King said nothing. The list of the checks was preceded by the following plain-spoken paragraph:

"This is one of the boldest and most audacious frauds ever committed by the Ring. Fields always declared he had to divide liberally, but until now it has been a mystery who shared the plunder with him. It is known that of $460,000 stolen from the City Treasury, Fields retained but $188,000. The rest was divided among his confederates, but how and with whom has been the question. Now, at last, the facts are out, and the copies of checks—the originals of which we have seen—show up the precious set of scoundrels."

Here it would seem is enough for a libel suit. Mr. King is distinctly charged with being a confederate in an outrageous swindle, as being one of a set of scoundrels who had robbed the City, and in proof of the amount of plunder which fell to him the check for $10,000 was printed in full. Notwithstanding this, notwithstanding that Mr. Jacobs came out hotly declaring his innocence, notwithstanding that the exposure attracted much attention at the time, Mr. King remained silent. He strangely enough made no attempt to vindicate that character which now he pretends to be so anxious to defend.

THE WORD OF COMMAND.

Recorder Hackett is to be driven from the Bench because he cannot be depended on to obey Boss Kelly's orders. District Attorney Phelps is to be sent adrift because he brings criminals to justice too soon—as witness his prosecution of Dolan, poor Mr. Noe's murderer. Mr. Van Schaick must not be Surrogate, because he is quite sure to refuse to pay tithe to Tammany Hall. Col. Gildersleeve must not be elected City Judge, because he would decide cases without reference to political schemes—and no first-rate Boss could consent to that. Mr. Ellinger would do his duties as a Coroner faithfully, and perhaps if one of Kelly's men shot another man in the streets, Coroner Ellinger would commit him to jail—a horrible offense. For these reasons you are requested to vote for John Kelly's candidates, and against the gentlemen just named. Please don't say that you will refuse to obey the Boss' order.

THE TICKET TO VOTE.

The ticket for county officers, which every respectable citizen should vote on Tuesday next, is as follows:

For Recorder—John K. Hackett.

For District Attorney—Benjamin K. Phelps.

For Judge of the Superior Court—Charles F. Sanford.

For Judge of the Court of Common Pleas—George M. Van Hoesen.

For Judge of the Court of General Sessions—Henry A. Gildersleeve.

For Judges of the Marine Court—Charles Goepp, James B. Sheridan.

For Surrogate—Stephen D. Van Schaick.

For Coroner—Moritz Ellinger.

For Aldermen at Large—Oliver P. C. Billings, Jacob Hess.

RECORDER HACKETT'S GREATEST OFFENSE.

Mr. John Kelly objects to Recorder Hackett. Notwithstanding the Recorder has made himself, as an administrator of justice, "a terror to evil doers, but a praise to them that do well," the Tammany chief cannot consent to his re-election. Kelly, or Kelly's ready writer for him, says that he cannot stand the Recorder's "record." As every intelligent citizen knows, that part of Recorder Hackett's record which is most objectionable to the Boss is a certain letter in which Hackett flatly refused to put Kelly's men into office in the Court of General Sessions. The great crime of the Recorder, in Kelly's opinion, is in just this, nothing more. If he had consented to be used by Kelly, as all Tammany nominees must promise to be, we would now hear nothing of the high moral grounds on which he is opposed by that eminent purist. Let every honest voter remember that John K. Hackett courageously said to the Tammany Dictator, refusing to fill his court with the creatures of political committees, "I should be recreant to my judicial independence and sense of duty if I answered otherwise than I have done."

CUTS BOTH WAYS.

The Democratic organs publish the mercantile agencies' list of failures in 1875 under the caption "Hard Times the Result of Republican Misrule." This is ingenious, but not ingenuous. If Republicans have caused the mercantile mishaps—which they have done about as much as they caused the September floods—they have done so either by the establishment of a legal-tender currency or by their efforts to withdraw that currency. If by the first method, then the "rag-money" Democrats are in the same boat with the Republicans. If by withdrawing the currency, then the hard-money Democrats are involved. In either case the Democracy can offer no relief, for they are agreed on no financial policy. The cry of "hard times" in the political canvass this year is a demagogue's trick, and it should be set aside with the contempt it deserves.

ONE OF HUGH M'LAUGHLIN'S JOBS.

In Brooklyn the other night "Boss" McLaughlin, who is a great Democratic light and a humble imitator of Tweed and Kelly, made a pathetic complaint against Gen. Slocum. He said that once upon a time Gen. Slocum was a candidate for office in Brooklyn, with his (McLaughlin's) consent and support. It became necessary in the course of the campaign to break up a Republican meeting. This being made clear to the mind of the "Boss," he sent and had the meeting dispersed in disorder. For this purpose, he said, he employed 600 men at an expense of $300. His complaint now is not that he was obliged to do this dirty work, not at all, but that he did not get his money back! "From that day to this," grumbles this pure patriot, "I have not been repaid." This man, who breaks up meetings to order and sees no harm in it so long as he is paid for it, runs the Democratic Party in Kings County, has nominated Mr. Edward Rowe for Mayor, and aspires to be in Brooklyn what John Kelly is determined to be in New-York—the wielder of the One-Man Power.

A MANY-SIDED ORATOR.

Mr. Henry L. Clinton has served so many political factions that his power to benefit or to injure any cause has been pretty thoroughly used up. Mr. Clinton is one of the disappointed aspirants for the Kelly nomination for District Attorney, and probably feels the disappointment as keenly as he does the poor success of his efforts at defending Richard Croker, to which that disappointment is mainly due. It is now about time for Mr. Clinton to turn his political coat again, and the fact that he has pocketed his disgust at Kelly's lack of appreciation of his talents can only be explained on the theory that he believes there is a "good thing" in store for him in the immediate future. His irrelevant attack upon Recorder Hackett is a fair sample of the fashion after which Mr. Clinton makes a bid for political preferment. It is not, however, nearly so good reading as his anti-Tammany speech at Apollo Hall in February, 1872, in which the organization whose collar he now wears is characterized in the following vigorous language.

"There are two organizations in this City professing Democratic principles; one is genuine, the other is spurious; one organization proceeds from and represents the people; the other originated in the dark recesses of a secret organization, and represents nothing but an irresponsible, invisible secret order. Our General Committee represents the masses of the Democratic Party, and was fairly elected by them. It is the only Democratic Committee in this City; it is the only Democratic organization here. It is the only organization that will be recognized by a Democratic State Convention, or a Democratic National Convention. The Sachems invite the Democracy to wear the threadbare, cast-off political garments of Tweed and Sweeny; to steep themselves in dishonor; to wear the garlands of political infamy, and enjoy the hospitable entertainment of a political graveyard."

Mr. Clinton, like his friends Wickham and Whitney, responded to this invitation of the Sachems, and now wears, with such grace as he may, "the garlands of political infamy." Of the three he has certainly had most reason to appreciate the force of his own remark about "the hospitable entertainment of a political graveyard."

"HOME RULE."

It is a queer sort of Home Rule to which the Democracy of New-York have finally brought themselves and now propose to subject this great City. For "Home Rule" read "Kelly Rule," and you have the entire situation described in a single phrase. A bold, unscrupulous man, practicing all the low arts of the scheming politician, has succeeded in crawling into the place vacated by Tweed, who, for reasons not altogether unconnected with robbery and theft, is at present "out of politics." But John Kelly is in politics. He belongs to that class of politicians to whom the fatalists say we must subject ourselves, because such men are busy when we are not. But the people of New-York are not ready for this variety of "Home Rule," whatever John Kelly and John Kelly's men may think about it. The voters of this City do not propose that Tweed's successor shall play Tweed's game over again. The rule they wish is a rule of the people, by the people, and for the people. When Kelly, or any other one man, has the judicial, financial, and executive power of the City in his hand we shall see an end of popular government.

GRATUITOUS SOPHISTRY.

Senator Kernan has volunteered to expose what he calls the "bigotry" of Republican idea, concerning the public schools. It is an issue which he might with great propriety have left untouched. But if he did not choose to do that, he should have taken the trouble to speak correctly of the Constitution and the laws of the State he represents in the United States Senate. The Constitution of New-York, in providing for the inviolability of the "public school fund" and for the application of its income to the public schools, does not protect those schools against the dangers with which the Roman Catholic clergy threaten them. The "common school fund" provided for in the Constitution is a very small fraction of the money expended on the public schools, which are mainly supported by local taxation. The Catholic clergy care nothing for this fund. What they want is a footing for their influence in the schools, either by some such scheme as they are pushing concerning the parochial schools in this City, or by the recognition of their right to expend the taxes raised for the education of so many of the pupils of the public schools as are of Catholic parentage. This plan of theirs, which is very well understood, is only cloaked by Senator Kernan's flimsy talk about the Constitution. Indeed the tone of Mr. Kernan's utterances on this subject is particularly Jesuitical, and strengthens rather than dissipates the suspicion that the Catholic clergy can depend on the Democratic leaders to advance their ideas.

MEETINGS IN THE CITY.

A LARGE GATHERING IN THE TWENTY-FIRST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT—RATIFICATIONS BY VARIOUS POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS.

East Side Hall, at Eighty-sixth street and Third avenue, was crowded last evening to its utmost capacity by the Republicans of the Twenty-first Assembly District, who met to ratify the Republican nominations for the State and County offices. The assemblage was called to order by Mr. Henry C. Robinson, President of the Twenty-first District Association, who delivered a brief address before introducing the speakers of the evening. He remarked that when the peculiar merits of the Republican Party were understood and appreciated, it was not surprising to find perfect harmony characterizing the movements of its adherents at the present time. For years past a society called Tammany had been in existence, and by the shrewd and scheming movements of its leaders had gained complete control of the City Government. It soon succeeded in destroying the credit of the City, and reveled in luxury at the expense of the overburdened tax-payers. Its chief, to be sure, was placed in a felon's cell for his acts, but Tammany Hall still continued to exist and prosper under the leadership of another man possessed of as much natural shrewdness and unprincipled scheming as his predecessor. In opposition to John Kelly and Tammany Hall, the Republican Party had taken the honest Democrats by the hand, and now both proposed through a united effort to place the government of the City in honest hands.

At the close of the Chairman's remarks the Secretary read a long list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries, including the names of the most prominent citizens of the district. A preamble and resolutions were then read and unanimously adopted. They heartily indorsed the action of the State Convention in its declaration concerning the national credit, the common schools, the choice of candidates, and the nominees of the County and district conventions.

Hon. Horatio P. Allen being introduced spoke in eulogium of Recorder Hackett and District Attorney Phelps as men whom all knew to possess the qualifications necessary to the efficient and honest performance of the responsible duties connected with their respective offices. Within the last few days District Attorney Phelps had, he said, very effectively demonstrated the fact that hanging was not "played out" in New-York as long as efficient public prosecutors were retained in service. Gen. Denis F. Burke delivered a scathing denunciation of John Kelly and his nominees, and was followed by Mr. Rufus B. Cowing, the Republican candidate for Assembly in the district; Mr. Granville P. Hawes, candidate for Civil Justice; Mr. James M. Grey, and others.

MR. PHELPS' POLITICAL SENTIMENTS.

A large and enthusiastic ratification meeting of Twenty-third Ward Republicans, and others opposed to the dictatorship of Tammany Hall, was held last evening near Gogge's Hotel, in Morrisania. When the meeting was called to order by the Chairman, George W. Thurber, nearly two thousand persons were present. After some preliminary business, the following letter from Benjamin K. Phelps, expressing regret at his inability to be present, was read amid much enthusiasm:

NEW-YORK, Oct. 25, 1875.

MY DEAR SIR: I have delayed answering your letter until now, in hopes that I should feel justified in engaging to speak to our good friends in Morrisania next Thursday evening, according to your invitation.

I find now, however, that it will be quite out of my power to do so.

My official duties are just now especially onerous, and I am about entering upon a trial of unusual importance, and if I were to engage to come I should, in all probability, be detained in court on the evening fixed, so as to be obliged to disappoint after all, which I should very much regret to do.

I should enjoy exceedingly an opportunity to meet my friends in your locality, and to exchange greetings with them on the eve of this contest.

I do not believe it to be necessary or proper that I should consume their time or attention at this time in any personal vindication, while I do not pretend to have been free from mistakes and errors, of which no man can be more conscious than myself. I know that I have faithfully endeavored to discharge my duties, and confidently appeal to my whole record as proof that I have done so.

Whether this will be fully understood by all my fellow-citizens in the heat and mist of a canvass full of calumny and misrepresentation I cannot tell, but I am proud to know that it is comprehended by the great mass of those who, without distinction of party ties, have manifested their earnest wish to continue me in the responsible position which I now hold.

Whether its duties can be best discharged by an officer thus selected by citizens of all parties and all shades of political opinion, or by the representative of a dictator who aspires to rule the courts of justice as he rules his political organization, it is for the independent and intelligent voters of the County to determine. Yours very truly,

BENJAMIN K. PHELPS.

JAMES R. ANGEL, Esq.

Immediately after the reading of the communication resolutions were adopted indorsing the Republican State and County nominations, pledging support to the public schools, and especially denouncing the action of Tammany Hall in reducing the laboring men's wages. During the evening eloquent and effective speeches were made by Hon. William A. Darling, Hon. Weil Van Gernsbach, Hon. George H. Forster, Lorenzo Bommer, James R. Angel, and others. At every reference made by these speakers to the names of Seward, Hackett, and Phelps, the enthusiasm of the assemblage was expressed by hearty and prolonged cheers.

POLITICAL GATHERING IN A CHURCH.

A large and enthusiastic but remarkably orderly assemblage, comprising both sexes, gathered at the German Lutheran Church in West Fiftieth street, near Eighth avenue, last evening to listen to addresses in favor of the Republican State and County nominations. The occasion was the holding of the last meeting of the campaign of the Seventeenth Assembly District Republican Association. Joel W. Mason presided. Addresses were delivered by Justice Charles A. Flammer, Charles S. Spencer, Walter S. Pinckney, and William T. Graff. Mr. Spencer, in the course of his remarks, said that both parties in this State professed to be in favor of an honest currency. Should the next Democratic National Convention, however, be carried by the Western delegates, and should an inflation or rather repudiation plank be inserted in the platform, Messrs. Tilden and Kelly would have to obey it. He justified the coalition of the Anti-Tammany and Republican organizations in this City, claiming that it was necessary in order to emancipate the judiciary of the City from the dictation of any political party. The question of sectarianism in the public schools was also noticed.

MR. BOOTH'S NOMINATION RATIFIED.

The several Assembly districts composing the Fifth Senatorial District held a mass-meeting at the Bleecker Building last evening to ratify the nomination of Hon. James W. Booth for Senator from that district. The hall was packed to suffocation, and a large number were unable to gain admittance. Mr. Abraham Lent presided, and introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Silas B. Dutcher, who discussed the issues of the hour in a general manner, and the qualifications of Mr. Booth in particular.

Mr. Isaac S. Hunter was announced as a convert from Democracy.

Mr. John Keyser, formerly a resident of that district, was greeted with loud and prolonged cheers. He said that he had been President of the first Republican association in that district, at a time when the district polled less than 600 votes. He was a life-long friend of Mr. Booth, and had never known him to be guilty of a mean act. While he knew Republicans would not fail to vote for him, he wanted Democrats also to cast their ballots for Mr. Booth. Rev. Henry Highland Garnett narrated numerous stories pertinent to the issue, and Prof. George W. Clark and Mr. Charles P. Shaw also addressed the meeting.

OTHER MEETINGS.

A meeting of the John Morrissey Republican Working Men's Campaign Club of the Sixth Ward will be held this evening at their rooms, No. 24 City Hall place.

The Independent Citizens' Association of the First Assembly District held a meeting at No. 194 Fulton street last evening, and indorsed the nomination of Mr. John Callahan, the Republican and Anti-Tammany candidate for Civil Justice.

A mass ratification meeting of the Sixth Assembly District Anti-Tammany Democracy will be held this evening at the junction of Grand and Division streets. Hon. John Morrissey, Richard O'Gorman, and others will address the meeting.

The Republicans of the Eighteenth Assembly District held a ratification meeting last night at No. 457 Fourth avenue, Mr. David Milliken, President of the Hackett and Phelps Club of the district, in the chair. Brief addresses were made by Mr. D. D. T. Marshall, the Chairman, and Mr. Herring.

The Fifth Assembly District German-American Independent Citizens' Association held a large and enthusiastic ratification meeting at No. 276 Spring street last evening, at which the People's County Anti-Tammany ticket was enthusiastically indorsed. Interesting speeches were made by Col. Friedman, Hon. David S. Paige, and Robert H. Pollock, which were loudly applauded.

The Twenty-third Ward Republicans had a grand rally last night at Central Hall, Morrisania. Mr. George W. Thurber was called to the chair, and addresses made by Hon. James R. Angel, Hon. William A. Darling, Hon. George H. Foster, Col. Gildersleeve, and Nicholas H. Babcock. Mr. Angel, President of the association, predicts a handsome majority for the ticket in this district on Tuesday next.

The Louis S. Goebel Independent Association held a ratification meeting last evening at No. 330 Eighth street. Mr. Goebel, who is candidate for Civil Justice in the Fifth District, and Archibald Watts, the Republican candidate for Assemblyman in the Twelfth District, made spirited addresses in the German language to a large assemblage of their countrymen. The President of the association Col. Wertheim, and others made remarks.

The German Republican Association of the Tenth Assembly District held a ratification meeting last evening at No. 215 East Fourth street, between Avenues A and B. It was very largely attended, the room being packed to overflowing. Speeches were made by Dr. Muhr, Gen. Pinckney, Caspar A. Baaden, Moritz Ellinger, J. Hoffman, Jr., and others. The Republican nominations of the State, County, and City were ratified with great enthusiasm.

A large meeting of those opposed to Tammany Hall was held last evening at No. 679 Third avenue. The meeting was gotten up mainly in the interest of Col. Timothy Hanley, independent candidate for the Assembly for the Twentieth District, but the general ticket, headed by John K. Hackett, was enthusiastically indorsed. Speeches were made by John H. Hildreth, Col. Hanley, Francis M. Bixby, and others. Early in the evening a number of Republicans and Anti-Tammany men, carrying torchlights and transparencies, undertook to parade through the principal streets at that district.

THE OCEAN RACE.

THE DAUNTLESS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

TO CAPE MAY AND BACK IN EIGHTEEN HOURS AND A HALF—THE SHORTEST TIME RECORDED—THE RESOLUTE LEFT OUT OF SIGHT.

The yachting of the season may be fairly presumed to have been brought to a termination with the Cape May race between the Dauntless and Resolute. As a race in the proper acceptation of that term, involving doubtful issues and alternating chances, it cannot be esteemed as of much account, but as an instance of splendid sailing on the part of the winning yacht, the Dauntless, it must come within the description of phenomenal. Perhaps it might serve, too, to throw some side-lights on the contests between the Dauntless and Mohawk, for assuredly the former, although the winner, was on that occasion out of trim and light in ballast, and therefore did not perform so well in windward sailing as was expected. In the race which started on Wednesday all notable defects were remedied, and as both Mr. Hatch and Mr. Bennett were more willing to make concessions than oppose obstructions, nothing stood in the way of a clear and decisive result. The Dauntless took in several tons of ballast, which greatly improved her sailing qualities, and the experience of the previous race taught the duty of attending assiduously to her pumps a matter of no indifference, when regard is had to the length of time during which she has been lying by. There were, in brief, no obstructions; but, instead, the yachts were sailed, one against the other, without time allowance, and with the reservation that there should be an eight-knot breeze, which almost involved the further condition that they should use only working sails. Indeed, there was no need of others in the weather in which they sailed, for all the tendency was rather toward reefing than carrying any undue press of sail.

As the foregaff of the Dauntless had been broken in the race of Tuesday, the presumption was that the race could not be sailed till Thursday, but Mr. Bennett speedily retrieved his mishaps, (and had also benefited by his experiences,) and so was quite prepared to start on Wednesday afternoon. A slight change in the course was the only new element of the contest. This was that the start should be from Stapleton instead of the light-ship, a condition which added a good many miles to the distance to be sailed. The point to be rounded was the Five-fathom Light-ship, the yachts finishing at the Sandy Hook Light-ship. The distance to be covered was from 220 to 223 miles, and this was sailed by the Dauntless in the wonderfully quick time of eighteen and a half hours and a couple of minutes, the shortest time on record over the Cape May course. Any description of the sail must be necessarily somewhat in the nature of a log of the yacht from which it was observed, with some supplementary gleanings concerning the performance and prowess of its antagonist. This is so, for the reason that the Dauntless started some ten minutes ahead of the Resolute, completely outsailed her, lost sight of her, and learned nothing further of her until when returning from the Five Fathom lightship she discovered lights which she presumed to be, and which were in fact, those of her antagonist. At this time there was a difference of an hour and some ten or twelve minutes between the yachts, and its inclining was decidedly more in the direction of increase than diminution.

The start has been already described in THE TIMES—how they crossed the line between Mr. Center's yacht Vindex and the club-house, the Dauntless at 5:27:10, and the Resolute at 5:35:33. The time as taken on the Dauntless varies a little from this, and in favor of the Resolute, but in the grand result it is not even of fractional importance. The wind was at this time blowing from the west, not so fiercely as it had been during the earlier portion of the afternoon, but with strength enough withal, and without any indications of lapsing into calms or light puffs of air. Once outside the Narrows, the strength of the breeze was fully felt, and the Dauntless with her additional ballast stood up well under the pressure, and was going at such a speed that the indications of the Resolute's proximity began to grow fainter and fainter. Night closed in rapidly, a night not without starlight, but with just merely enough to make, as it were, the darkness palpable. It was keen and bitter too, and the sharp winds that swept through the rigging and filled the sails made no pleasant cadences. To start on a yacht race of 200 miles is to be a part of it, and therefore it will be understood that these observations are not taken from some exquisitely impartial platform, but from the deck of one of the competing yachts. In this instance the point of observation is the Dauntless, and for the excellent reason that the Resolute was not to be seen such observation appertains nearly altogether to herself.

In the stretch for Sandy Hook Point the yacht was hauled rather close on the wind, and as there was some sea on, she had wet decks, and in the very beginning the crew were pretty well besplashed with the salt water that broke over her weather bow. But small inconveniences were not of much account when an important result was to be achieved, and the stout yacht dashed so gallantly through the yielding waters that already anticipation pressed forward toward the goal of success. After going round the Hook, her course was shaped south by west for Barnegat Light, and under the land she dashed through comparatively calm water, and through the night, but under the influence of a breeze which was every moment freshening. Down the yacht sped past the looming Highlands and by the barren beach of Long Branch and its deserted habitations, ready to bourgeon into life and gayety when the swallows of fashion that make a Summer are on the wing once more. The yacht, which was in charge of her sailing master, Capt. Lyons, who was also advised by some of the most experienced pilots of the coast, was altogether splendidly handled, and was sailing superbly. She was, when sailing at her best, making from thirteen to fourteen knots an hour, and as the phosphorescent billows broke and boiled under her lee, and rolled down behind, it was a literal fulfillment of Tennyson's description of tearing the dark with wakes of fire. But marine-glasses were still straining astern for the menacing lights of the Resolute, as the yacht was known to be entrusted to expert hands. Still they were not visible. At 9 o'clock it was blowing so strongly that it was deemed desirable to house the foretopmast, while on she still dashed through the seas that seemed to rush by and be lost in the infinite void behind. At 9:50 she was abeam of Barnegat Light, which bore due west. After rounding Sandy Hook Point she had been running with a somewhat free sheet, but she was again close-hauled, and as the breeze was still freshening, her maintopmast was housed, but it was put in position again at 12 o'clock. Squalls from the land were now frequent, but the stanch yacht was all the while sailing splendidly, and at 1:43 the Five-fathom Light was sighted straight ahead, thus indicating that the laying of the courses was absolutely perfect. After leaving Barnegat the course was south-west by south till the Absecom Light bore north, and thence it was south-south-west to the light-ship. At 2:45 the Dauntless went round the light-ship to leeward. There seemed to be no life in that melancholy ocean tenement, but a sturdy hail brought forth a response, and a query as to whether any other yacht had passed elicited a satisfactory negative. The word was passed that the vessel was the yacht Dauntless, and then her course was shaped back north north-east for Absecom. Meanwhile there was a sharp look-out for the lights of the Resolute, as, assuming that she was on her true course, she must pass hard by. She was, as was supposed, abeam of the Dauntless, to windward, at 3:24, and this conjecture was probably correct, as it was learned afterward that she passed the Barnegat Light, bearing west by south, at 10 o'clock, and the light-ship at 3:57:15. The Dauntless had thus an advantage over her of about an hour and ten minutes. She had the same fair wind on the course back, but occasionally it came light and "puffy" off the land, and sometimes hauled from west to north-north-west. But in the main the breeze was splendid, and the progress of the yacht was as great as it was during the night. The morning dawned keen and cold, but perfectly beautiful. The sun beamed out at first faintly through great bars of cloud, but in a little while all the heaven yielded to its effulgence, except where the haze hung down in the horizon on the land, carrying in it the brisk wind which bore us along. In the early morning the Dauntless met the sloop Vindex, bound south, and also fell in with the wreck of the Emma Bacon, a three-masted schooner of Barnstable, which had her masts carried away during the night, and had a hole driven in her starboard bow by a collision. So the yacht sailed up by the beach with little variation, having to haul her mainsheet aft at times, but easing it again as the wind came more on her quarter. When off the Highlands she shaped off with a free sheet for the light-ship, and rounded it, leaving it to port, at 11:55:25, thus winning the race and sailing the course in about eighteen hours and a half, the shortest time recorded, the Resolute not being then in sight. As the Dauntless beat home she was descried coming up by the Highlands, but she came in round Sandy Hook Point without making the light-ship. The Dauntless cast anchor off Stapleton at 3:29:25, and something over a quarter of an hour later the Resolute also anchored. The Dauntless was saluted by all the craft that passed her, and she acknowledged the nautical courtesies by dipping her ensign in the customary way. The Resolute also joined in the congratulations. The value of the performance of the Dauntless will be best appreciated when the sailing of the Resolute in her matches with the Estelle and Vesta and Dreadnaught is remembered.

GAMBETTA ON THE STRENGTH OF THE REPUBLICANS—DEPARTMENTAL VOTING—STATE CONTROL OF EDUCATION.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—La République Française publishes a "manifesto" from M. Gambetta. He says he is confident the approaching election will show a great Republican majority. He upholds the system of departmental voting, and says among the labors of future Assemblies must be the restoration of the control of education to the State. He trusts that an era of political reconciliation will supervene, and that then the participants in the Commune will be amnestied.

THE GRANGER CASES.

ARGUMENT TO BEGIN TO-DAY IN CASES INVOLVING THE "POTTER RAILROAD LAW" OF WISCONSIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The argument of several cases, of great importance to railroad interests especially, will be commenced to-morrow in the Supreme Court of the United States. These cases come up on appeal from the Circuit Court of Wisconsin, and involve the constitutionality of what is generally known as "the Potter Law," by which the Legislature proposes to fix the tariff of railroad transportation, both of passengers and freight. The railroads in that State resist the law and these suits are brought in consequence. A somewhat similar case from Minnesota has just been argued, and these Wisconsin cases were advanced so as to be considered in connection with it. I. C. Sloan and Judge Dixon, of Wisconsin, appear for the State, and J. W. Cary, of Wisconsin, B. C. Cook, and Judge Lawrence, of Illinois, and William M. Evarts and E. W. Stoughton, of New-York, represent the railroads. In consideration of the large number of counsel and the importance of the case the court has allowed fourteen hours for the arguments.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY AGAINST THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28.—Herman Richteen, Treasurer of St. Louis County, filed a petition in the United States District Court to-day, asking on behalf of St. Louis County for an adjudication of involuntary bankruptcy against the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company for non-payment of interest for the past four months on $700,000 of bonds issued to that company on Jan. 1, 1865. The petition also alleges that in July last the company, then being bankrupt, and with a view to giving preference to one or more creditors, and to secure certain of its indorsers and sureties, executed a mortgage upon its property and franchises to Henry F. Vail and James D. Fish, to secure payment of certain bonds to the order of Vail and Fish, amounting to $4,000,000. The petition will be heard by Judge Treat to-morrow.

Mr. Richteen and Frank J. Bowman, attorney for the county, will leave for New-York to-morrow to attend the meeting of the unsecured creditors of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, to be held there Monday next.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT AND MANITOBA.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—The Government has considered the request of the Manitoba delegates and come to a decision on the subject. The expenditure of the local Government is over one hundred thousand dollars per annum. On examination the Government is of opinion that this amount should be reduced to $90,000 by the abolition of the upper chamber, a reduction of printing, and the curtailment of other unnecessary expenses. When this retrenchment has been made and the Government is satisfied that there has been a bona-fide reform, the subsidy will be increased from its present amount to $90,000, which, it is calculated, will be ample to meet the properly reduced legislative expenses and leave a good margin for education and public improvements.

WATCHING THE WRECK OF A SCHOONER.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 28.—A Newport (R. I.) special says the steamer David Wilson arrived there this morning, from Block Island. The Captain reports yesterday, while on the piazza of the hotel on Block Island, the guests, with glasses, saw eastward of the island a large two-masted schooner in distress. Soon after both masts were seen to go overboard, and the vessel rapidly settled out of sight. It was blowing a hurricane at the time, and they supposed all hands were lost.

BODY OF A RICHLY-DRESSED LADY FOUND.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 28.—The body of a young and beautiful woman, aged about twenty-five years, was found in the river here yesterday. The corpse was richly dressed, wearing a purple silk dress and jet breast-pin and ear-rings. In the pocket of the dress were found $175, also a card-case, containing cards bearing the name of M. M. Blackwell, a check for baggage to Leavenworth, and a pass from Chicago to Kansas City. The Police are doing their utmost to ferret out the affair.

A VESSEL LOST.

NEW-ORLEANS, Oct. 28.—The ship Northampton, which arrived to-day at South-west Pass, forty-two days from Havre, reports that on Oct. 13, in lat. 25°, 50′, lon. 65°, 10′, she passed a vessel bottom up, apparently about two hundred tons. The bottom was painted black. She had not been long in that condition. At South Point bearing west-north-west, 200 miles, she passed a boat with the name "Daphne, of Thomaston," on the stern.

THE NEW-JERSEY DEFALCATION.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—The case of Sooy, the defaulting State Treasurer, was postponed, after argument by his counsel to-day, until next term.

VIRGINIA CITY.

LATEST FROM THE SCENE OF THE DISASTER.

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERERS — THOUSANDS WITHOUT FOOD OR SHELTER — CONDITION OF THE MINES AND PROSPECT FOR EMPLOYING THE POPULATION — BUILDING TO BE BEGUN AT ONCE—THE LOSS AND INSURANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 27.—The Pacific Stock Exchange has started a subscription for the Virginia City sufferers. It expects to raise $4,000 or $5,000. A meeting was held to-night at the Palace Hotel. Among those present were Senators Sharon and Jones, Mayor Otis, E. J. Baldwin, James R. Keen, J. C. Flood, W. T. Coleman, W. F. Babcock, and other prominent citizens. A committee was appointed, which will meet to-morrow morning to concert measures of relief. A large number of women and children have been sent to Gold Hill, Reno, and California. To-day there was a light wind, and showery weather was threatening. Carson City sent a car-load of provisions for 2,500 persons, and they are being dealt out at the First Ward School-house. Reno, Gold Hill, and other towns are sending food and clothing. There are fully 3,000 people without food, beds, roofs, or money; of these fully 500 are without necessary clothes. Should severe weather soon set in much suffering must ensue. The injured mines cannot, employes say, get buildings and machinery under sixty days. Rebuilding will go on all over the city, and this will give employment to hundreds in clearing the ruins and other work. The people are in good spirits, and while terribly afflicted are brave. Hundreds are too proud to say they need help, and ladies go out and find women and children requiring food but ashamed to beg it. This feeling is relaxing, however, under the kind offices of the Relief Committee, which is already partly organized. Some shanties are being put up, and workmen are busy shutting off broken water and gas pipes, and getting the worst débris out of the streets.

Some of the streets are utterly impassable, being choked with the ruins. The intensity of the heat is seen in the twisted and warped iron-work and heavy walls drawn out of shape. Dangerous walls are being blown up every few minutes, and others are being pushed over. The streets and open lots present a scene of indescribable confusion, lumbered with broken furniture, damaged goods, and broken machinery.

The machinery of the hoisting works burned is believed to be badly damaged, but not utterly ruined. The water in the Consolidated Virginia Mine is being pumped off through the Gould & Curry and other mines, but the pumping facilities thus far are inadequate. Last night the shaft of the Andes Mine was on fire and sent up a column of flame 150 feet high. It is believed it will burn out the shaft and go no further, communication being cut off below. This mine is on the south region of the fire and above it, and took fire from flying cinders. Its buildings were not burned. Information about the mines is that all the men got out without injury. Some of the burning timbers of the Ophir fell down the shaft and sent gases, as of burning wood, up the Gould & Curry shaft. Water was lifted up and then dropped back, forcing the gases back. It is believed there is no fire in the Ophir Mine at all. Water, however, is kept on the shaft. The Gould & Curry Mine is full of gas from the damaged mines, and the men cannot go down. Work has been stopped in the mine. Thirty feet of the Consolidated Virginia shaft timbers are burned. Mr. Mackay, of the firm of Flood & O'Brien says no ore will be hoisted from the damaged mines before next Spring; that this throws 2,500 miners out of employment; that many thousand people will leave here, and all that is now needed is money to transport them.

It is now stated that the insurance on the Virginia City property has been greatly underestimated, and that the total loss of the companies cannot fall much short of $2,000,000. It is feared that one or two local companies may go under. The best business men in Virginia City estimate the loss at $7,500,000. One-third of the insurance is in foreign companies and the rest in local.

Hundreds of people are in the ruins searching for articles of value. Safes are being pulled out of the ruins. The vaults of the Bank of California are all right; only a few papers were lost.

THE MINES ALL RIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Private dispatches convey the gratifying information that the mines are all right. Men have been through from the Gould & Curry mine to the Ophir. There is no fire in the workings, and no damage has been done. The water is decreasing. The damage to the Ophir shaft is limited to a few feet at the top. The Consolidated Virginia evidently feels the effect of the news, having just gone up to 245 and 250 in the board, against 232½ in the open session.

A CHEERFUL VIEW OF THE MINING PROSPECT—MECHANICS TO LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Oct. 28.—I have just had (1 o'clock P. M.) an interview with John Mackey. He says: "I have been through all the mines this morning, and they are all right. There is no gas or fire in any way connected with the Gould & Curry mine. When the old side shaft, now used as an air shaft for the Andes mines, was burned the gas went through the Latrobe tunnel, and worked its way into the mines. Their gas is now all gone. Work will be commenced on the Gould & Curry to-morrow or the day after. Work will be commenced in the way of the hoisting of ore in the Consolidated Virginia within sixty days. Meanwhile about 300 tons will be hoisted daily through the Gould and Curry shaft from the Consolidated Virginia mine, and we will employ 300 men immediately. If the Ophir had not been burned we would burst through their shaft as well as that of the Gould and Curry.

Things look more cheerful to-day than they did yesterday, and by Spring everything will be running as well, if not better, than it did before the fire. Many mechanics and laborers will have to go to California and return in the Spring. This they probably would have done even if no fire had taken place.

BOSTON INSURANCES.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 28.—Only one Boston insurance company is affected by the Virginia City fire—the Faneuil Hall—and its risks are not above $6,000.

RELIEF FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The work of obtaining and forwarding relief to Virginia has been going on vigorously to-day. Several thousand dollars have been collected, the citizens and corporations, especially mining corporations, responding liberally. Donations of clothing, blankets, and other necessaries have also been forwarded. Favorable reports of the condition of the mines, received to-day, have had an effect to create a much more hopeful feeling in business circles.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

MABEL MARTIN. By J. G. WHITTIER. With Illustrations. Boston: JAMES R. OSGOOD & Co.

This is a very beautiful edition of a poem which is already a favorite in every household, under the title of The Witch's Daughter. There are some interesting additions to, or alterations in, the text, but the chief novelty consists in the illustrations, which are full of grace and originality. The artists are Mary A. Hallock, John J. Harley, A. R. Waud, and T. Moran, and it is difficult to say which has contributed most to the charms of the volume. Fortunately, it is not necessary to enter into so nice a comparison—it is sufficient to say that the pictures are as lovely as the verses; and in these days when all sorts of rubbish under the name of poetry flood the land, the work of a genuine poet presented in such a garb, ought to find an unusually hearty welcome. It is almost the first of the books which we have seen designed for the holiday season, and in every way it will be found worthy to hold a foremost place among them.

MARK TWAIN'S SKETCHES, NEW AND OLD. Sold by subscription. The American Publishing Company, Hartford. 1875.

Mark Twain has here brought together for the first time, a number of sketches and stories which have never been collected before, and several which now make their appearance in print for the first time. The book abounds with illustrations, some of which are almost as funny as the text. We have found the volume a most amusing one, and it can scarcely fail to answer the author's aim, which doubtless was to give the reader a hearty laugh. We can honestly recommend it as a companion for these long and dull evenings, so many of which may naturally be looked for at this season of the year.

THE NOVEMBER MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S MONTHLY.

—This number, the last of the fifty-first volume, opens with an interesting contribution on the "Glaciers of California," by John Muir, who has incidentally supplied some items of scientific value. It contains also two papers that will be attractive to agriculturists, one by G. J. Wickson, and the other by Mrs. Howland. In the former the writer describes the process of manufacture of butter and cheese, giving details both of the process and of the trade afterward, with particular reference to certain localities. Mrs. Howland writes in a more humorous vein, with occasionally a little sarcasm. Her article is prompted by a book published lately entitled Ten Years of Gentleman Farming at Blennerhasset with Co-operative Objects. W. E. Webb gives a graphic sketch of Western civilization in a paper entitled "Air Towns and their Inhabitants." Mr. Parton continues his notes on caricature, and Mr. Cox his on legislative humor. Eugene Lawrence supplying this month's installment of the Centennial papers. Some interesting literary notes are given by James T. Fields in a sketch of "Barry Cornwall and Some of his Friends." We quote the following as comprising some features in the character of a couple of the most prominent subjects of the paper. Mr. Fields says:

> "It was at a breakfast in Kenyon's house that I first met Walter Savage Landor. As I entered the room with Procter, Landor was in the midst of an eloquent harangue on the high art of portraiture. Procter had been lately sitting to a daguerreotypist for a picture, and Mrs. Jameson, who was very fond of the poet, had arranged the camera for that occasion. Landor was holding the picture in his hand, declaring that it had never been surpassed as a specimen of that peculiar art. The grand-looking author of Pericles and Aspasia was standing in the middle of the room when we entered, and his voice sounded like an explosion of first-class artillery. Seeing Procter enter, he immediately began to address him in high-sounding Latin compliments. Poor, modest Procter pretended to stop his ears that he might not listen to Landor's eulogistic phrases. Kenyon came to the rescue by declaring the breakfast had been waiting half an hour. When we arrived at the table Landor asked Procter to join him on an expedition into Spain which he was then contemplating. 'No,' said Procter, 'for I cannot even "walk Spanish," and having never crossed the Channel, I do not intend to begin now.'
> 'Never crossed the Channel!' roared Landor—'never saw Napoleon Bonaparte!' He then began to tell us how the young Corsican looked when he first saw him, saying that he had the olive complexion and roundness of face of a Greek girl; that the Consul's voice was deep and melodious, but untruthful in tone. While we were eating breakfast he went on to describe his Italian travels in early youth, telling us that he once saw Shelley and Byron meet in the door-way of a hotel in Pisa. Landor had lived in Italy many years, for he detested the climate of his native country, and used to say 'one could only live comfortably in England who was rich enough to have a solar system of his own.' * * * Procter told me that when Landor got into a passion his rage was sometimes uncontrollable. The fiery spirit knew his weakness, but his anger quite overmastered him in spite of himself. 'Keep your temper, Landor,' somebody said to him one day when he was raging. 'That is just what I don't wish to keep,' he cried, 'I wish to be rid of such an infamous uncontrollable thing. I don't wish to keep my temper.' Whoever wishes to get a good look at Landor will not seek for it alone in John Forster's interesting life of the old man, admirable as it is, but will turn to Dickens' Bleak House for side-glances at the great author. In that vivid story Dickens has made his friend Landor sit for the portrait of Lawrence Boythorn."

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

—Four places, presenting every possible variety of feature, are here described. Sidney Lanire gives a pleasing picture of St. Augustine in April, and enumerates several points of interest to those who are looking forward to a visit to Florida this coming Winter. Mrs. Rebecca Davis has an account, which is unusually fresh and attractive, of a comparatively unknown region in North Carolina, belonging to a tribe of Indians who, according to the writer, must be considerably advanced in their progress toward civilization. A. E. Lancaster supplies a pleasantly-written sketch of Vichy, and the strange crowd of visitors which annually fills that favorite watering-place; and Edward C. Bruce contributes the first of a series of articles descriptive of the scenery of the Thames. The illustrations in this last have the disadvantage of being copied from drawings taken long ago, and which, therefore, do not represent present appearances. Under the title "A French Provincial Writer," Mr. Will Wallace Harney gives an account of Claude Tillier, a humorous French writer, who is little known outside of his own country. Mrs. Linton furnishes the third part of the "Atonement of Leam Dundas," a well-written story, and there are short and very readable tales by Jennie Woodville, and an anonymous writer, who gives some insights into life in Rome. Mary Dean contributes a short paper on going hopping, and there are besides the ordinary amount of literary and editorial gossip, poems by E. Kearsley, Mary Atkinson, Kate Hillard, and Edgar Fawcett.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

—Although far advanced in the thirty-sixth volume, the current number contains the first chapters of Mr. Howells' new novel, "Private Theatricals," the scene of which is laid in New-England. The continuation of "Roderick Hudson" is the only other contribution in the region of fiction. Charles Dudley Warner writes a graphic sketch of Eastern travel, describing some experiences in Egypt, and Col. Waring sends his concluding paper on "The Sanitary Drainage of Houses and Towns," in which are a few explanatory illustrations. George Cary Eggleston gives a pleasant sketch of life in the Old Dominion in olden times, introducing some anecdotes of prominent citizens under the past régime. A series of papers on railroad accidents, by Charles Francis Adams, Jr., is begun, with an enumeration of several prominent illustrations of a practical kind, but chiefly derived from abroad. The most important point brought out is the almost certain prevention of the dangerous results of "telescoping," by the adoption of a process of coupling similar to that in use on the English railroads. Mrs. Kemble resumes her gossip, which is entertaining as ever. Here is what she says of the commencement of her own theatrical career. After describing her part as Hermione, in Racine's "Andromaque," in a school play, she says:

> "That was the last of our school plays, the excitement produced by which may have suggested to our worthy teacher an anecdote with which she not long after enlivened our evening religious exercises at bed-time. She generally read to us some book of devotion before prayers, and on this occasion she selected the following story: A fashionable lady, extremely fond of the theatre, was one day expatiating with great vivacity, to Rev. Dr. Somebody, upon all the delights she derived from going to the play. 'First, you know, Doctor,' said the lively lady, 'there is the pleasure of anticipation, then the delight of the performance, and then the enjoyment of the recollection!' 'Add to which, Madam' said the amiable divine, 'the pleasure you will derive from all these pleasures on your death-bed.' This was rather a powerful piece of sensational religionism for a lady the solitary ornament of whose drawing-room was John Kemble as Coriolanus, and I remember feeling not shocked, English, but choquée, French, at this implied condemnation of the vocation of my whole family. I believe Mrs. Rowden had taken fright at my performance of Hermione, and judged it expedient to extinguish, by as much cold water as she could throw upon it, any incipient taste I might entertain for the stage. With this performance of 'Andromaque,' however, all such taste, if it ever existed, evaporated, and though a few years afterward the stage became my profession, it was the very reverse of my inclination. I adopted the career of an actress with as strong a dislike to it as was compatible with my exercising it at all."

Horace E. Scudder supplies a short commentary on Andersen's stories, a subject with which he is specially familiar; and from the pens of Edgar Fawcett, T. B. Aldrich, Celia Thaxter, and G. P. Lathrop we have some contributions in verse. The miscellaneous notes refer to matters in literature, music, and education.

THE GALAXY.

—Miss Mary A. E. Wager has a gracefully-written notice here of Nannette, the youthful sister of the German poet, Schiller. Besides a highly appreciative sketch of the immediate subject of the article there are several points in it which possess a social and historical interest. Mr. H. James, Jr., follows in the footsteps of a writer in the American Quarterly, and under the guidance of three French volumes, gives a short memoir of the two Ampères, father and son. William Farrar Smith offers some corrections of Sherman's Memoirs with reference to the battle of Chickamauga, and Julian Hawthorne has a paper in defense of tobacco smoking and briar pipes. Mr. Codman continues his articles on Utah; Mr. Whittaker offers some suggestions about the weather in reference to the theories of Prof. Blasius; and Lady Blanche Murphy works on her imagination to tell a story of a European "Marriage Market." Some time ago the World took an opportunity to preach a sermon on the metric system from a text supplied by Richard Grant White, who had previously inadvertently attributed but two gills to a pint. Mr. White responds with one of the best articles that have appeared from his pen in this magazine for a long time, and, under the new and very appropriate title "Heterophemy," tells of many instances where the best writers have sometimes fallen into the error of meaning one thing and writing another. "Dear Lady Disdain" is continued; "Leah, a Woman of Fashion," is brought to an end by Mrs. Edwards, and there is a short story by Emilie La Foye entitled "Twenty Years." Poetry comes from F. W. Bourdillon, W. C. Richards, and Kate Carlisle, and there is the usual supply of literary, scientific and miscellaneous notes.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

—Mr. Bret Harte's new story is begun in this number, and is, of course, the chief feature of attraction in the magazine. The first chapters are very powerful, and will excite great interest in the public mind. We cannot, of course, enter into any criticism of the story in this early stage of its publication. The first of a series of papers on American colleges, being a description of William and Mary, with numerous illustrations, takes precedence. It is by J. Esten Cooke, a writer well known in the South. Eugene Thomson has a chapter on the "Curiosities of Longevity," wherein he has gathered together the names of a number of old people; Sophie Herrick supplies a useful, but short compilation on what she calls "Glass Sponges," and another compiler, whose name does not appear, gives a timely notice of some of the Princes and customs of India. The question of literary copyright is taken up by E. S. Drone, who, commenting on the position of foreign dramatists under American laws, points out the more liberal and enlightened policy of the British nation toward foreign authors, when compared with that of the American Government. J. Bunting writes of the "Old Germania Orchestra;" Gail Hamilton ventures on some prognostications respecting the "Hotel of the Future," and the "Goethe Home at Frankfort" is described by Alfred S. Gibbs.

THE ALDINE.

—We have this month a double issue of this excellent and thoroughly American art journal, and it contains some of the best pictures that have appeared for many months. The selections are good and the execution all that can be desired. The first engraving, "Dolce far Niente," after Charles Laudelle, the well-known French artist, is in the best style of art, and admirably retains the characteristic so well displayed in the original, but which no word in our language can convey. "The Christening," after Merle, a sequel to another picture that appeared a few months ago, is almost equally commendable. We must also mention a full-page engraving entitled "Avenged," by H. Von Angeli, which, while presenting a different style, is remarkably effective. There are likewise some excellent engravings of landscape, many of them pictures of more or less familiar places. Among these last are "The Lovers' Walk in Sawkill Glen," a good study of foliage, with perhaps a little too much light on the foreground; the "Sawkill Falls," near Milford, and the "Triple Cascades," on the Sawkill. The "Pentelsteiner Chasm" in the Tyrol is a good example of rocky scenery; and among the many other illustrations, we must notice two which are in no way inferior to any—"Undine," after a picture by Miss Starr, who has portrayed the beautiful water nymph with good effect, and a fine picture of elk on the Upper Missouri, after W. M. Cary. The texture of the animals in this engraving is to be noted. We have not space to enumerate the many remaining illustrations, which comprise, among others, scenes from the Cathedrals of Chester and Strasbourg. The literary matter this month is as varied as the pictures, and fully as interesting. Among the contributors, we find the names of Henry Morford, who is always entertaining, E. S. Jarlsen, R. Davey, the author of "The Spur of Monmouth," Marie Ladd, Fenno Douglas, and several contributors in verse. In all respects this is an unusually good number.

ST. NICHOLAS.

—Mrs. Dodge here enters upon her third volume, and presents as fresh and varied a collection of reading matter for her young friends as can be found in any previous number. The frontispiece is an engraving of Penelope Boothby, and it is attached to a short sketch of the author of the original, Sir Joshua Reynolds. Among the instructive articles will be found one on "Alligators, by F. Beverley, and others on the germination of seeds, by Annie Mackintosh; on the French Revolution, by Donald Mitchell; on "Postage Stamps," by an anonymous contributor. The first chapters of a serial by Noah Brooks are here, and there are a number of short stories, and verses by H. P. Spofford, J. T. Trowbridge, Celia Thaxter, Susan Coolidge, and several other writers whose names are well known to the friends of St. Nicholas. The illustrations are specially good. "Jack in the Pulpit" and the other topics of the closing pages are full of amusement, and altogether the number gives abundant promise for another excellent volume.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY.

The earlier pages of this magazine are this month devoted to a paper that is at least suggestive on the relations of women to crime, by Dr. Ely Van De Warker. The view he takes is not that habitual criminals are in any sense insane, but that they are persons in whom thoughts and acts move in the direction where there is least resistance, so that a habit once begun may be confirmed, and thus life wears for itself channels from which it becomes impossible that the current may be driven. The opinions of the writer will not receive unquestioning approval, but he touches upon several points that are worthy of consideration and inquiry. Papers that may be read in connection with this are one by Dr. B. W. Richardson, on "Induced Disease from the Influence of the Passions," and another on "Suicide in Large Cities," by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, who refers more particularly to the data derived in New-York. Articles by Mrs. Herrick on "Hydroids," by E. R. Leland on "Insectivorous Plants," and by Prof. Haeckel on "The Properties of Protoplasm," although offering nothing that is new, are of some scientific interest to the general reader. The same remark will apply only in part to a valuable contribution by Prof. Balfour Stewart, reprinted from Nature, on the "Meteorology of the Sun and the Earth." There are some theoretical suggestions here which may fairly lay claim to originality, and they attracted much attention on that account when first submitted to the Bristol meeting of the British Association. Mr. John Michels in a few pages tries to instruct everybody in the art of making a microscope. In a paper from the Food and Fuel Reformer is discussed the question whether alcohol is food, and finally among the reprints must be mentioned Sir John Hawkshaw's address abbreviated, which he delivered as President of the British Association for this year at Bristol. An imperfect memoir of Dr. Charlton Bastian, and the customary editorial and literary notes, make up the contents of this number, which, by the way, completes the seventh volume.

THE AQUATIC MONTHLY.

—The "correspondence," which is always among the most interesting portion of this monthly, contains in this number, among other things, a letter from "Handy Billy" on the Madeleine and Mohawk. The writer, although an advocate of "racing machines," admits that he would rather travel round the world in the Dreadnaught than in Mr. Garner's great schooner. "Coxswain" tells of some rowing on the Schuylkill; D. H. E. tells a story about opening the season (1872) on the Julia, and "Big Topmast" explains a process for finding a yacht's centre of gravity by experiment. With the exception of a useful article reprinted from Hunt's Yachting Magazine on Corinthians and Corinthian matches, the remaining pages are taken up with reports of yachting and rowing events here and throughout the country. The Aquatic fully sustains its character as the leading authority on all these matters.

REDUCING THE CITY BUDGET.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF APPORTIONMENT—THE ESTIMATES OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS REDUCED—A WITTY RETORT BY THE CONTROLLER.

The Board of Apportionment reassembled yesterday for the purpose of considering the estimates of the departments and bureaus for 1876. Each was taken up in the order in which it appeared on the general budget. The first reached was that of salaries of the clerks of the Board of Aldermen, for which $20,000 was asked. The amount was reduced to $15,000 on motion of Controller Green. The sum of $12,500 was then allowed for the maintenance of the Permit Bureau, Mr. Green opposing the item. Controller Green moved that $25,000 be allowed for cleaning markets. Mayor Wickham said he believed that $20,000 would be sufficient for that purpose. If it was not, unexpended balances could be transferred to make up the difference. Controller Green replied that the matter ought not to be decided in that way. He desired to know if the Mayor intended to make up a budget based upon surpluses in some departments and deficiencies in others? A motion to make the sum $20,000 was subsequently carried, the Controller voting in the negative.

The sum of $200,000 was appropriated for salaries of the Finance Department and $5,000 for contingencies. To meet judgments against the City, $125,000 was allowed.

The estimate of the Department of Charities and Correction, amounting to $1,366,992 76, was next taken up. It was proposed to reduce it to $1,193,000. Commissioner Bailey, who was present, introduced Dr. Ordronaux to the board, and the Doctor made some remarks in favor of passing the estimate as presented. He said that some improvements were necessary in the public institutions and also in the dietary of the patients. He noticed that the convalescents and the sick eat out of the same vessels, and the same spoons were used by both. Such poverty of furniture as was found in the buildings could not be seen in the work-houses of the rural districts. He then referred to the condition of the lunatics on the island, and said that the amount asked for would be required to take care of them and of the other inmates.

Controller Green replied that every person felt for these people, but he thought they should also feel for the tax-payers, and take care that a number of them be not compelled to go into the poor-houses. The Board should look at both sides of the question and deal with it justly. While the Doctor had his sympathies touched, there were other influences which should equally operate on his mind. Commissioner Bailey said that there were about two thousand lunatics and two thousand sick persons on the island, and he thought it was their duty to do everything to restore them to reason and to health. The matter was laid over.

The estimate of salaries of the Department of Public Works, amounting to $150,000, was read by the Secretary. Controller Green referred to the expenditures of that department, which he said were enormous, and moved that the amount asked for be reduced to $110,000. Mr. Wheeler moved to amend by fixing the sum at $130,000—and the amendment was carried, the Controller voting in the negative.

An item of $1,436,525 to be raised by taxation to redeem judgment bonds falling due July, 1876, was called up, but at the suggestion of the Mayor was laid over, so that an opinion from the Corporation Counsel on the subject might be obtained.

Controller Green moved to reduce the estimate of the Tax Commissioners from $129,800 to $92,000. He thought the latter sum would be sufficient.

Mr. Wheeler replied that it would not, and that all that was asked would be required.

After several motions relating to the matter had been made, the sum was fixed at $125,000, the Controller voting in the negative. The board then passed the following items: $37,500 for the Surrogate's Court; $1,000 for removal of old hulks or wrecks in the harbor, and $8,000 for the payment of armorers' wages.

Appropriations were also made as follows: $12,500 for the support of prisoners in the County Jail; $40,000 for Sheriff's fees, and $6,000 for salaries of Clerks of Commissioners of Accounts. The Controller voted against all these items, on the ground that they were illegal. In connection with the amount for Sheriff's fees he said that the emoluments of that office were already immense, and the board should not raise money from the tax-payers to support it. The sum of $6,000 was allowed for fees of County officers and disbursements to witnesses. The board then reconsidered the estimate of the Department of Charities as reduced, and added $39,000 thereto. The amount allowed is therefore $1,232,000, as against $1,366,992 76 in the original estimate.

The Mayor called up the estimate of $350,000 for building an armory for the Seventh Regiment. Col. Clark, who was present, said that the regiment required a new building, and hoped that the amount asked, or part of it, would be allowed. In subsequent years the balance could be raised. Controller Green spoke earnestly against appropriating the amount. He was opposed to increasing the burden of the tax-payers. "Suppose," he said, "the other military organizations demanded new buildings, it would, at the same ratio of expense, increase the already heavy taxes by at least $7,000,000." He referred to a communication on the subject, which he wrote some weeks ago to Mr. Ottendorfer, and he believed that if any one who would take the pains to read it they would conclude that the position he had taken was correct. Mr. Green then adverted to the law passed at the last session of the Legislature in relation to making provision for the proposed armory, and said that it would not have been operative but for the fact that the Mayor had approved the resolution of the Common Council on the subject.

The Mayor here replied that he would take the responsibility of approving the resolution. Alderman Lewis moved to insert $117,000, which, at the suggestion of the Mayor, was made $100,000. The question as to whether the latter sum should be allowed was put and lost, Controller Green and Mr. Wheeler voting in the negative, and the Mayor and Mr. Lewis in the affirmative. The matter was then laid over until to-morrow at the suggestion of Mr. Wheeler, who desired to give it further consideration.

During the proceedings the Mayor was called upon by a gentleman to whom he spoke for a few minutes. Upon resuming his seat he remarked to the Controller that the visitor's store had been robbed.

The Controller smilingly replied: "Why don't you send him to your friend, Police Commissioner Smith?"

"No," replied the Mayor, "I'll send him to your friends Disbecker and Matsell."

"Well," retorted the Controller, "they seem to be good at discovering lost things; you know they found out all about the 'chips.'"

This witty allusion to the removal of the gambling implements from Police Head-quarters by Commissioner Smith called forth loud laughter.

THE NEVADA BADGE.

The first contest for Nevada State badge, presented by the State of Nevada to the National Guard of this City, was held at Creedmoor yesterday. The companies contesting were obliged to contain the minimum number of enlisted men—forty-six. The regiments represented were the Seventh, Company H, Capt. Casey, and Company I, Capt. Nichol; Twenty-third, Brooklyn, Company A, Capt. Story; and Forty-seventh, Company G. The Seventh and Twenty-third Regiments shot according to military rules; each man using his own weapon, but the members of the Forty-seventh fired with a limited number of pieces. Major Holland, of the Third Brigade, being the senior officer present, superintended the firing. Mayor Hunter, Inspector General Woodward, and Col. W. C. Church were interested spectators. Company A, Twenty-third Regiment, was not fully represented, and will complete its scores to-morrow. The highest average was that of Company I, Seventh, the average being 18 points per man; Company H, 17 points; Company A, Twenty-third, 16 points, and Company G, Forty-seventh, 15 points.

LAW REPORTS.

THE RING SUITS.

THE AMENDED ANSWER IN THE TWEED SIX MILLION SUIT—THE ANSWER IN THE MILLION SUIT—TWEED'S POINTS ON THE SETTLEMENT OF THE WATSON SUIT.

Messrs. Field and Deyo, counsel for William M. Tweed, served yesterday on Mr. Wheeler H. Peckham, the representative of Attorney General Pratt, an amended answer in the six million suit against their client, the amended answer being served under the same protest made by them at the time of serving the original answer—that sufficient time had not been granted for appeal from the action of the General Term. The new matter in the amended answer is contained in the last two sections—the sixth and seventh—and is predicated on the settlement of the Watson suit and the arrangement made to secure the testimony of James H. Ingersoll and Andrew J. Garvey against the Ring. Following are the sections:

Sixth—And for a further, separate, and sixth defense, this defendant alleges, upon information and belief, that after the times of the pretended transactions mentioned or referred to in the said complaint, the plaintiffs entered into an agreement with the representatives of the estate of the said James Watson, deceased, by which it was agreed that the said estate should be relieved from a great part of the claim made against it, and against the said representatives, arising out of the said pretended transactions, and a certain amount paid therefor. An action was brought in the Supreme Court of this State by the said plaintiffs against Margaret Watson, as Administratrix of James Watson deceased, for substantially the same claim that is made against the defendant in this action, and by collusion between the parties, judgment was rendered for the sum of $648,932 32 in favor of the plaintiffs, which judgment has been satisfied by payment; and the residue of the said estate, of great value, amounting to upward of $1,000,000, has been released from all claims against it. And this defendant claims that not only the money so recovered, but the value of any and all other property which the plaintiffs might have subjected to their said claim, and have thus released, should be deducted from any amount which may be recoverable against this defendant, by reason of the pretended matters alleged in the complaint or any of them.

Seventh—And for a further separate and seventh defense—that defendant alleges, upon information and belief, as he has already alleged in his sixth defense, and furthermore, that upon the trial of this said suit of the plaintiffs against the said Margaret Watson, Administratrix, Andrew J. Garvey, and James H. Ingersoll came forward as witnesses for the plaintiffs, by virtue of agreements, severally made between them and the agents of the plaintiffs, that, for their testimony in this and kindred cases, they should be released from all claims against them arising out of the pretended transactions mentioned or referred to in the said complaint, though they had each, as had also John H. Keyser and J. McBride Davidson, hereinbefore mentioned, property of great value, out of which all claims arising out of the said transactions, or a great part thereof, could, if valid, have been satisfied. And this defendant claims that the value of any and all of said property which the plaintiffs might have subjected to their said claims, and have thus released, should be deducted from any amount which may be recoverable against this defendant by reason of the pretended matters alleged in the complaint, or any of them.

In the suit begun recently against Tweed for about a million of dollars, alleged to have been fraudulently obtained on warrants purporting to be issued under the law of 1868, Messrs. Field and Deyo also served their answer yesterday. It consists of three sections. In the first Tweed admits the passage of the act of 1868 under which the warrants recited in the complaint were issued. He denies conspiracy or combining with Watson, and also every allegation in the complaint that he does not specifically admit in this answer. The second and third sections are, respectively, precisely the same as the sixth and seventh of the amended answer in the six million suit. In addition to the answer, the usual affidavits of merits was also filed.

THE OCEAN BANK.

TESTIMONY IN THE CASE CLOSED—THE CHARGES AGAINST MR. STEVENSON FULLY AND PUBLICLY WITHDRAWN.

The examination of witnesses for the defense in the suit of Samuel M. Archer against the Ocean National Bank was continued yesterday morning in the United States Circuit Court.

Ira L. Cady was the first witness called. He testified that for upward of thirty years he had been a dealer in locks and safes, principally for bank use, and in this connection had been greatly interested in all cases of burglary. He visited the Ocean National Bank, on the Tuesday after the robbery, and examined the vaults, and found the workmanship all that could be required. Mr. Richard King, Assistant Cashier of the Bank of Commerce, Mr. Samuel B. White, President of the the Grocers' Bank, Mr. William Quinlan, Assistant Cashier of the Chemical National Bank, Mr. Aaron B. Hayes, Cashier of the North River Bank, Mr. William H. Sturns, an employe of the Manhattan Bank, and Mr. John Parker, Cashier of the Phoenix Bank, next testified in regard to the custom observed among bankers in employing night-watchmen, and leaving lights burning in the banks in 1869.

David R. Martin was then called. He testified that for nineteen years prior to 1869, he was President of the Ocean National Bank; he had no recollection of being informed that Peter Grant, the janitor, was intoxicated at any time; he had never heard of any defects in the locks of the vaults, or in the interior arrangements of the bank, rendering it liable to danger; he had no previous knowledge of the proposed burglary, or apprehension of any thing of the kind, and of no especial danger to any deposit; it was his understanding that it was not the usual rule to employ night-watchmen; he had read, and also been told, that they were likely to be tampered with, and that institutions had been robbed through collusion with them. Cross-examined, he testified that the janitor of the Ocean Bank had access to the banking-room; he could not say that his prejudice against watchmen extended also to the employment of janitors; the banking-room had a pitch-pine floor, the whole about twelve inches in thickness, and under the wood-work filled in with concrete.

Cornelius Hoff, a truckman, but in 1869 a private watchman in the employ of William Booth, was next called. His beat covered the Ocean Bank building; he had special instructions to look after the bank, and tried the doors at different times during the night; he tried them on the Saturday night of the robbery and Sunday morning following, and found them safe.

The cross-examination of Mr. Martin was then continued. He knew J. D. Martin, Mr. Holley, William G. Phillips, the Police Surgeon, all of whom had testified in the present trial; he could not recollect any of the conversations alleged to have taken place between himself and the persons mentioned at different times, in regard to the affairs of the bank, though he could not swear that they had not taken place; Holley did propose the employment of a night watchman, but nothing was said as to the safety of the bank; he was informed that a man had been discovered in the bank one day, who escaped by jumping through a window; he left an instrument something like a claw-hammer behind him. [Mr. Andrews here read from a copy of witness' testimony upon the trial of a similar case at Englewood, N. J., in which he testified that he had no recollection of this matter.] Mr. Holley once spoke to him of a gambling-house in the rear of the bank, but nothing was said in regard to suspicious characters; Mr. Martin did speak of the matter a year or two before the robbery; he could not recollect any conversation whatever with Mr. Phillips.

Mr. Andrews then asked—When the Ocean Bank was changed from a State to a National Bank, in June, 1865 was not your individual account largely overdrawn?

Mr. Bangs objected to the question, and it was excluded by Judge Wallace.

Mr. Andrews—Were you not from that time up to the time of the robbery, continually embezzling large sums of money? A.—No, Sir.

Q.—Was not your account overdrawn at the time of the change to the extent of $400,000? A.—I cannot answer that question without examining the books; I have no definite recollection on the subject; possibly it may have been so; I recollect that it was overdrawn, but do not know that it was so for a series of years; I was not in debt to the bank at the time of its failure, and do not owe it a dollar now; loans were never made by the bank, except upon good securities."

Mr. Andrews asked other questions in regard to the securities, when Judge Wallace remarked that he had gone far enough in this direction.

Mr. Martin stated that the $400,000 which he was represented to have overdrawn was probably the amount of the national bonds of the bank, which were charged to him at the time of the change, and properly credited to him after it was effected.

With the testimony of Edward Dunn, formerly an employe of the bank, and Thomas Regan, formerly a policeman upon that beat, the case was closed. Counsel for plaintiff put in the value of the bonds placed on deposit, giving it at $11,751 25.

Mr. Andrews said that before taking an adjournment, as the case was closed, he thought it but justice to Mr. Stevenson that the charge made against him in the opening of the case be now as fully and publicly withdrawn as it was fully and publicly made then. "In justice to Mr. Norris also," he added, "it should be said that from the information he received"—"I object to these remarks, or anything in regard to the information he received," said Mr. Bangs. "Mr. Stevenson is perfectly satisfied with this withdrawal." "Very well," said Mr. Andrews, and Judge Wallace added, "I am very glad that this formal apology has been made—glad also to see this spirit disclosed." "And I thank the plaintiff's counsel on behalf of my client for the avowal he has made," said Mr. Bangs. The argument to the jury will be made this morning.

A LAWYER'S TESTIMONY DISCREDITED.

Charles H. Clark gave a mortgage for $1,000 to a Mr. Buslé, who sold it to Henry A. Fletcher at a discount. Fletcher sued to foreclose, and Clark set up the defense of usury. The case was tried in Supreme Court, Special Term, before Judge Van Vorst, and Buslé swore that the mortgage was given him without consideration, and that he so stated to Fletcher's attorney; but he subsequently modified this testimony by saying that he thought he had so informed a Mr. Anderson, a broker, who had introduced him to Fletcher. When Fletcher bought the mortgage he got an affidavit from Clark that it was bona fide, and that there was no defense to it, and a lawyer named Robert N. Waite and Buslé gave their certificates that the affidavit was true. Fletcher said that Waite and Buslé told him that the mortgage was made to obtain advances and pay for professional services. Mr. Waite said that his certificate was not strictly correct, and that Fletcher was aware of the fact, and that it was a mere cover to facilitate the transfer of the mortgage. Judge Van Vorst gave a decision yesterday in favor of the plaintiff, saying that he could not credit portions of the testimony of Waite and Buslé, as they were in conflict with the certificate given by them. It is but justice to Mr. Waite to say that he desired Judge Van Vorst to have all the evidence in the case submitted to the General Term of the Supreme Court, and to District Attorney Phelps.

TRIAL OF COL. DES ANGES.

IDENTIFICATION OF THE HANDWRITING OF THE ACCUSED—THE CASE PROGRESSING SLOWLY.

The trial of Deputy Collector Col. Robert Des Anges for alleged complicity in the silk frauds on the Government was continued yesterday morning in the United States Circuit Court.

M. P. Rice, bond clerk in the Custom-house, was recalled for cross-examination. He stated that it was not customary with him to inquire as to the reliability of powers of attorney presented to him, unless some of the attending circumstances excited his suspicion. There was no way for the Deputy Collector to find out who were on the import bonds except through the bond clerk, until they were filed.

F. H. Wight, chief clerk in the Warehouse Division, was also recalled for cross-examination. He recognized certain figures on the invoices, the 9s, 10s, and 5s, as those of Des Anges. He was not positive, however, that he should be able to recognize them on any other papers.

The direct examination of witnesses for the prosecution was then resumed. F. H. Webster, Assistant Superintendent and clerk in the Custom-house was called. He identified the signature of Des Anges to a large number of invoices and entries, which, it was claimed, designated cases of cotton goods to be sent to the Appraiser's office for examination, which in reality contained silks; also identified certain figures upon them as having been made by Des Anges, but could not swear that he could identify except in this connection.

N. W. Howell, clerk in the Custom-house, was next called to the stand. He identified the signature and figures of Des Anges upon a number of like documents. At this time the court adjourned.

EXPERT TESTIMONY REJECTED.

In the Court of Common Pleas, before Judge J. F. Daly, yesterday, the case of John F. Crowell vs. Mary Elizabeth Jackson and James Davis, Executrix and Executor of George W. Jackson, came on for trial. The plaintiff, a dentist, sued defendants to recover $4,000 on a promissory note alleged to have been given by the deceased in June, 1871, for money loaned. The defense was that a settlement had been had with plaintiff after the date at which the note is alleged to have been given, plaintiff receiving $4,700 and making no claim as to the note in question, and it was averred that the note was a forgery. Several witnesses testified that they did not think that the signature to the note was that of Jackson. An expert named Timpson was called, but Judge Daly declined to permit him to testify, holding that, for all practical purposes, the jurors were as good judges as the witness offered. The jury were directed to bring in a sealed verdict this morning.

COURT NOTES.

Alexander A. Johnson, successor to the late Lewis B. Woodruff as Judge of the Second Judicial District, will take the oath of office to-day at 11 A. M., in the United States Circuit Court, Room No. 43 Post Office building.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday John Guinnan, charged with striking Mary Dolan on the head with an axe in a tenement-house quarrel, inflicting dangerous wounds, was found guilty and sentenced by Judge Sutherland to four years in State Prison.

In the long pending suit to oust Alfred S. Conklin from the Presidency of the Mechanics' and Traders' Savings Institution, a judgment order was entered yesterday by Judge Donohue in favor of Conklin. A remarkable feature of the litigation was that that the costs only aggregated $82 39.

John J. Jefferson, a colored man, was charged before Judge Sutherland, in General Sessions, yesterday, with cutting his brother-in-law, William H. Holmes, with a razor in a dispute at No. 65 East Houston street. Jefferson was found guilty, and sentenced by Judge Sutherland to four years and six months in the State Prison.

The General Term of the Supreme Court reserved decision yesterday on an appeal in the suit of the Church of the Redemption against Grace Church, to recover about $52,000 paid to Grace Church as insurance on the Church of the Redemption, which stood opposite the Academy of Music on Fourteenth street, and was destroyed by the fire which originated in Barnum's circus and menagerie adjoining it. Grace Church obtained the insurance on the ground that it owned the Church of the Redemption, a claim denied by the latter church.

On the results given by a lactometer John Kneib was fined $100 in the Court of Special Sessions on a charge of selling adulterated milk. On the trial several persons who claimed to be experts testified that a lactometer was unreliable, as skimmed milk would sometimes mark a higher degree on it than milk with cream on it. This testimony was disregarded, and an appeal was taken to the General Term of the Supreme Court, where argument was had yesterday, decision being reserved.

John Collins was placed on trial yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, charged with feloniously assaulting John Plabbart, a grocer, of No. 728 East Ninth street, with whom he had a dispute about an indebtedness. Plabbart's right eye was gouged out by Collins with some weapon, which the injured man thought was either a knife or a fork. The prisoner was found guilty, with a recommendation to mercy, and sentenced by Judge Sutherland to two years in the State Prison.

Peter McArdle, a junk-dealer, who was brought to this City from Stamford, Conn., charged with stealing a horse, wagon, and harness, the property of Owen Ward, another junk-dealer, doing business at No. 450 West Thirty-ninth street, was brought to the bar of the Court of General Sessions yesterday. Assistant District Attorney Bell said that the evidence against the accused was entirely insufficient to warrant his conviction, and McArdle was thereupon discharged by Judge Sutherland.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, Judge Sutherland presiding, Assistant District Attorney Bell prosecuting, Thomas Brady, charged with stabbing Edward Gibson, of No. 425 Second avenue, with a knife, on the 2d inst., pleaded guilty, and was sent to the State Prison for two years. William Garraghty, indicted for cutting James O'Brien, of No. 29 West Forty-fourth street, with a razor, on the 18th of September, also pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three years in the State Prison.

A boy named James Gallagher was committed by Justice Otterbourg to the school-ship Mercury. His mother petitioned Judge Lawrence to discharge him on the ground that the Justice had no authority to make such a commitment, the power of entering boys on the vessel residing exclusively in the Board of Education. The discharge was resisted by Assistant District Attorney Herring on the ground that it was to be presumed that, as the boy was on the vessel, he had been sent there by the Board of Education. Judge Lawrence expressed great surprise that such a plea should be made, and ordered the boy's discharge.

THE HOUSE OF BISHOPS.

SPECIAL MEETING AT GRACE CHURCH—THE ELECTION OF BISHOPS TO AFRICA, CHINA, AND MEXICO NOT YET ACCOMPLISHED.

The House of Bishops (Protestant Episcopal) of the United States is holding a special meeting at Grace Church, called for the election of a Bishop for the new Church of Mexico and to fill vacancies caused by the death of Bishop Williams, of China, and of Bishop Auer, of Africa. The meeting opened yesterday morning with public religious services, conducted by Right Rev. B. B. Smith, Presiding Bishop of the United States. The Bishop of Minnesota, Henry B. Whipple, read the Litany and the Bishop of Maryland, William R. Whittingham, read the anti-communion service. The celebration of the holy communion followed, in the course of which Bishop Smith spoke impressively of the occasion on which the House was convened. It was no ordinary occasion, he said, but one calling for the most perfect consecration and the most sacred piety. On the selection of the right men for the important Bishoprics vacant depended the prosperity of God's Church in Mexico, Africa, and China. He prayed most fervently, he said, that all of the Bishops might share in his realization of the weighty responsibility resting upon them, and he bade them all, as they came to partake of the holy bread and the wine, to remember that it was Christ's body and Christ's blood, designed upon this occasion to sanctify them for the election that was to follow.

The public service concluded, the House of Bishops withdrew to the chapel, where it continued in secret session until 6 o'clock, at which hour it adjourned over night, not yet having accomplished the elections. The day was given up entirely to consultation and discussion and the general interchange of views, it being the feeling of the Bishops that in a matter of so great importance hasty action was to be avoided. When the meeting adjourned last night there had been little progress made toward the selections; nevertheless it was expected that the business would be completed at the meeting to be held this morning in Trinity Chapel.

There were thirty-four Bishops present, as follows: B. B. Smith, D. D., Presiding Bishop of the United States; Neely, of Maine; Niles, of New-Hampshire; Bissell, of Vermont; Paddock, of Massachusetts; Clark, of Rhode Island; John Williams, of Connecticut; Potter, of New-York; Doane, of Albany; Huntington, of Central New-York; Coxe, of Western New-York; Odenheimer, of Northern New-Jersey; Scarborough, of New-Jersey; Stevens, of Pennsylvania; Howe, of Central Pennsylvania; Kerfoot, of Pittsburg; Lee, of Delaware; Whittingham, of Maryland; Pinkney, (assistant,) of Maryland; Lay, of Eastern Maryland; Lyman, (assistant,) of North Carolina; Young, of Florida; Wilmer, of Louisiana; Bedell, of Ohio; Jagger, of Southern Ohio; Talbot, of Indiana; Gillespie, of Western Michigan; Whipple, of Minnesota; Vail, of Kansas; Pierce, of Arkansas; Clarkson, of Nebraska; Hare, Missionary Bishop of Niobrara; Spalding, Missionary Bishop of Colorado; Elliott, of Western Texas; Garrett, of Northern Texas.

THURSDAY, Oct. 28—P. M.

There was a fair degree of activity at the Stock Exchange to-day, Lake Shore, Pacific Mail, Western Union and Erie continuing to attract the largest share of attention on the part of operators. Lake Shore led the market in point of activity, and some wide fluctuations in the stock took place. At the opening the price advanced to 62¾, but after midday fell off to 60¾. The highest point afterward reached was 61¾, the final sales being at 61. Pacific Mail displayed marked strength, and advanced from 40⅛ to 41¼, with the latest transactions at 40¾ @40⅞. Western Union opened at 76⅝ and closed at 75¼, the highest and lowest prices respectively. Erie was weaker, and declined from 18⅝ to 17⅞. Chicago and North-western fell off from 37¾ to 36⅞, rallied to 37¼, and closed at 36¾. St. Paul ranged between 34 and 34⅜. Union Pacific rose from 65¼ to 66 and closed at 65⅝. Michigan Central declined from 62½ to 61¾, the final quotation being 62¼ to 62⅜. Panama rose to 136. Missouri Pacific was dull at 2@2½, and Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph advanced from 18⅛ to 19⅝. Hannibal and St. Joseph rose from 19⅞ to 20⅞ and afterward touched 19¾. Ohio and Mississippi declined from 16⅞ to 16⅜. The total transactions for the day were 226,500 shares, of which 67,000 were in Lake Shore, 49,000 in Pacific Mail, 37,000 in Western Union, 25,000 in Erie, and 10,000 in Chicago and North-western common.

The demand for money at the Stock Exchange was moderate to-day, the supply being ample to call borrowers at 3@4 ℘ cent. Prime commercial paper ruled quiet at 6@7 ℘ cent. The amount of National Bank notes received at Washington for redemption to-day was $600,000. The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the retirement of $704,090 legal tenders, an amount equal to 80 ℘ cent. of the new National Bank circulation issued during the month.

The foreign advices reported a strong and higher market for United States bonds at London, the improvement being equal to ⅛@½ ℘ cent. Old 1865s closed at 103¼, 1867s, at 103¼, 10-40s at 104⅝@101⅞, and new 5s at 103¾@103⅞. Consols declined a fraction, closing at 94½@94⅝ for money, and 94⅝ for the account. Erie advanced to 16⅝, and afterward fell off to 15¾. Three months discounts in the open market at London were quoted at 3¼ ℘ cent., or ¾ below the Bank of England rate, which was not altered at the weekly court of the Directors to-day. The proportion of bank reserve to liabilities is 41⅛ ℘ cent., against 36⅜ last week, notwithstanding a decrease of £173,083 bullion. The unemployed notes in the Bank are reported at £10,913,375. To-day £10,000 went into the Bank on balance. The specie in the Bank of France increased 3,353,000 francs during the past week. The sterling exchange market was heavy and lower during the early part of the day in consequence of the increased dearness of cash gold and the advance in the premium; but when the former eased up and the latter declined the market became firmer, and there was some recovery. The nominal rates were reduced to $4 78 for long and to $4 82½ for demand sterling, with business as low as $4 76 and $4 81. At the close the quotations among the brokers were $4 76½@$4 77 and $4 81½@$4 82. Gold was strong, and advanced from 116⅛ to 116⅜, and cash gold in active demand, the borrowing rate rising from 3-64 to ⅛ ℘ cent. per diem. The advance was based on the settlement for bonds with the Treasury by the Syndicate, but at the close it was generally supposed that the amount of gold turned into the Treasury on this transaction had been exaggerated, and the gold market became weak, sales being made at 116⅛, with a final close at 116¼. Cash gold was also in better supply, and loaned free of interest. In exceptional instances holders paid 3@1 ℘ cent. to have balances carried. The Treasury sold $1,000,000 gold, all of which but $20,000 was awarded to D. P. Morgan & Co. at 116.40 to 116.45. The bids aggregated $2,030,000 at prices ranging from 116.01 upward.

Government bonds were strong and prices made a further advance. Railroad mortgages were firm on moderate transactions and the leading issues continue in demand. Union Pacific Sinking Funds receded to 83 at the close. Chicago and North-western consolidated coupon gold bonds advanced to 86¾@86⅞. State bonds presented no important feature. District of Columbia 3.65s were weaker, declining to 72⅝.

JAY GOULD AND ERIE.

Two years ago, when Jay Gould, under duress of the courts, made partial restitution to the Erie Railway Company of the millions that had been unlawfully withheld, a balance of some $1,400,000 remained, and he was given the privilege of paying $1,000,000 of it in stock of the United States Express Company. This stock he received while President of the Erie Railway Company as a bonus for giving the Express Company the privilege of doing business over the Erie Line. Meantime the stock has declined from 95 to 45, and last week Gould wrote a letter to the Attorney of the Erie Company offering to make good his promise. A meeting was arranged, and the result was that Gould has agreed to give and the company to accept the equivalent of 10,000 shares of United States Express Company stock at the present market price—about four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

FOR SALE.
308,000 ACRES
VALUABLE LANDS IN KANSAS.

By direction of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the unsold lands west of the Neosho River, along the southern line of the State of Kansas embraced within what is generally known as the "Cherokee Strip."

These lands are offered for sale in compliance with the provisions of an act of Congress approved May 11, 1872, (United States Statutes at Large, vol. xvii., pp. 98 and 99.)

They will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, at not less than $2 per acre for all of said lands lying east of the Arkansas River, and $1 50 per acre for such lands as lie west of said river.

Printed lists, describing the lands hereby offered for sale by their proper legal subdivisions and indicating the minimum price at which each tract is held, will be sent by mail to the address of any person making application therefor to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or to the Register and Receiver of the local offices at Wichita and Independence, Kansas.

Persons offering to purchase may bid for as many tracts as they may desire, but each bid must be separately made and sealed, and must be for not more than one hundred and sixty acres, (and conform to the legal subdivisions embraced in the list.)

Bids must be accompanied by ten per cent. of the amount bid as a guarantee of the good faith of the bidder, which sum, in case the land is awarded and the balance not paid, will be forfeited. Should any bid be rejected, the sum deposited will be returned to the proper party.

Parties whose bids are accepted will be notified of such acceptance as soon after the opening of the bids as practicable, and if within forty days after such notice has been duly mailed prepayment in full be not made to the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the amount bid, the land upon which such bid was made will be again subject to sale.

The ten per cent. deposit required to accompany bids may be remitted in Post Office orders, certificates of deposit, certified checks on some Government depository, payable to the order of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or in currency.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved.

All bids must be sealed and addressed to the "Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C.," and indorsed "Bids for Cherokee Strip Lands."

Bids will be received as above invited until 12 o'clock noon of the 30th day of November, 1875, after which they will be duly opened and acted upon.

S. S. BURDETT,
Commissioner of the General Land Office.

A NEW POEM BY MR. ROBERT BROWNING.

We beg to announce that we have made arrangements with Mr. Robert Browning for the publication of a new poem from his pen. The date of its appearance in the columns of the Sunday edition of THE TIMES will shortly be announced.

The order of arrest issued by Justice DUFFY, at a late hour yesterday afternoon, against the editors of THE TIMES, is worthy of notice chiefly as a specimen of the kind of rule which JOHN KELLY is anxious to establish. The alleged libel appeared in our news columns, and was reproduced from those same news columns of 1873. It has never been denied that the check on which the charge against KING mainly rests, was actually received and paid. We have never had and have not now, any reason to suppose that any statement contained in the paragraph was, or is, untrue. There has never been any defense of the transaction which our reporters described. The application for a warrant was simply an electioneering "dodge," as appears clearly from the report of the proceedings. It is due to Justice DUFFY to state that he made out the order with reluctance, and took care that it was not served upon us at night. This degree of forbearance we owe to his good sense, not to the new "Boss." We need only add that we are prepared to meet this or any other issue which may be forced upon us by the endeavor to discharge our duty toward the public in the course of this election.

If JOHN KELLY had an atom of prudence in his composition, he would abate his dictatorial tone until after election. He is proclaiming himself autocrat a little too soon. Yesterday he addressed a letter to Senator CONKLING, in the columns of the World, in which he boasts and threatens in a vein which would only be justified if all the people had already bent down to put his yoke upon their necks. TWEED, whatever may have been his faults, seems to have had less of the insolent ruffian in his nature than the new Boss. He appears to think that he already owns all the courts in the City and State. He is going to abolish Senator CONKLING. "I will deal," he says, "with your cockney trigger-puller in the courts of my State." It is a wonder that he did not say "in my courts." That slight change alone was needed to make his letter perfect. He or his Tammany tools may apply for orders of arrest against editors of newspapers three days before election, and thus endeavor to silence all adverse criticism of him or his creatures. But if he supposes that this course will induce the people to turn out and vote for him next Tuesday, he will find himself miserably deceived. The public know what THE TIMES has risked in their behalf before to-day—we are quite content to place our character and reputation against those of JOHN KELLY. If he could have got us locked up in the Tombs last night on a frivolous charge, we should have been quite prepared to submit to the annoyance, so that the eyes of the people might have been fully opened to what they have to expect from the rule of Boss KELLY after next Tuesday.

Gov. TILDEN has been spending several days in the City in the hope of restoring something like harmony in the Tammany ranks. Finding that this was a hopeless task, he whispers plaintive appeals in the ears of Democrats not "to harm the State ticket." In other words, "Don't kill me off as a Presidential candidate." But KELLY has carried matters with so high a hand in this City that State and County ticket alike are inevitably destined to go by the board. Democrats will not vote for a renegade like JOHN BIGELOW, and they are still less likely to place themselves under the heel of a man like KELLY. The utter defeat of KELLY and the State ticket will liberate them from Tammany once and for all —Gov. TILDEN will be the first after that to recognize the necessity of totally reconstructing the present vile machinery of Tammany, and putting it in the hands of men of character and position. At present, all decent Democrats are simply suffocated by low politicians of the Kelly stamp. The respectable and honest Democrats have quite as much interest as Republicans in overturning an institution which has brought nothing but ruin and disgrace upon New-York.

We trust that the Republican and Anti-Tammany leaders in this City are looking well after their organizations. Are they taking every possible means to bring out the full vote? It is in this respect that Tammany Hall generally beats its enemies. Every day and every night Boss KELLY is holding "Committees on Discipline," or "on Organization," and is constantly drilling what the World rather appropriately calls his "legions." We need not be above taking a hint from Tammany Hall on this one point. Let us not trust too much to the tide of public feeling, although it is unquestionably running strongly in our favor. Let us rather do the same hard, practical work as we should feel called upon to do if the tide were all against us. Is each ward being properly looked up? Are the arrangements for securing a full vote perfect? There is time enough yet to put right any screw which may happen to be loose on these points. We can never be too cautious in conducting such a contest as the present, and our caution should be carried down to the very last moment.

No one has sought to make political capital out of the recent trial of DOLAN for the murder of Mr. NOE. But the Kelly papers feared that the vigor with which District Attorney PHELPS was pushing the case to trial would somehow or other help him with the public, and so they set to work denouncing him like a pickpocket for doing his duty so well! It is one of the most ludicrous things we have noticed during the present canvass. Not a solitary Republican paper in the City had asked for any credit for Mr. PHELPS, when the World, on Wednesday, began to belabor him for bringing an atrocious murderer to punishment. Since, however, the question has been raised, we make bold to say that the energy and success shown by Mr. PHELPS in bringing poor Mr. NOE's assassin to the gallows entitle him to the renewed confidence of the people. When did they ever hear of a Tammany District Attorney getting a murderer sentenced to death on the eve of an election? In Mr. PHELPS' time more than twice the number of convictions has been obtained that any of his Tammany predecessors could boast of. That one fact speaks louder than words. He is dreaded by the thieves as much as Recorder HACKETT himself. But the Tribune wants him to "explain"—Heaven knows what—and says, "We would be happy to publish one for him." We should be happy is probably what the booby meant to say. Is it not nearly time that some college asked the Professor to deliver another lecture before it—say, on the rudiments of the English language?

The Tribune, of course, obeys the order of its present masters, TILDEN and KELLY, and attacks Recorder HACKETT and District Attorney PHELPS. It is also very angry that JOHN MORRISSEY should be a candidate for office; but against JOHN FOX, (who has ten times MORRISSEY'S faults with none of his virtues,) it has not a word to say. MORRISSEY, at any rate, would never take a bribe, and has never stolen any money—rugged virtues, no doubt, but it is not everybody who can boast of possessing them. JOHN MORRISSEY ought to receive the votes of every citizen as against a person like JOHN FOX. No money can bribe him. Who would promise that for FOX? We advise the believers in independent journalism to mark carefully the fact that all KELLY'S candidates are being praised by the Tribune, and all the candidates on the other side abused. Not a word is said against the Tammany candidates for Civil Justices, or against JOHN FOX, or KELLY'S candidate for City Judge. This is playing the part of an "organ," with a vengeance—nothing like it has ever been seen in this country before.

The importance of the Marine Court as a tribunal for the speedy adjudication of cases of a minor character makes the selection of candidates for that office a matter requiring discrimination. For this reason we are glad to approve the nomination by the Republican and Anti-Tammany Conventions of Col. JAMES B. SHERIDAN. Col. SHERIDAN is in the prime of life. He was the private secretary of the late STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS down to the time of his death, studied law in the office of ST. GEORGE TUCKER CAMPBELL, in Philadelphia, enlisted as a private in the first company formed in Washington at the outbreak of the war, was promoted to the rank of Paymaster by President LINCOLN, and since the conclusion of the war has been living in New-York, engaged in the practice of law, and more recently as the official stenographer of the Superior Court. He is a gentleman of character, ability, experience, and culture, and his elevation to the Marine bench will give the City a good officer.

FACTS FOR TAX-PAYERS.

It is hardly necessary to repeat the arguments by which it has been so often shown in these columns that "Reformed" Tammany Hall is but the Tammany Hall of TWEED, with a few respectable head-pieces introduced to sustain the pretense of having adopted new principles and a more honest policy. This is the less necessary because the statement is sustained by such eminent Democratic authority as Mayor WICKHAM, Corporation Counsel WHITNEY, and expectant Tammany office-seeker HENRY L. CLINTON. These gentlemen have left on record the opinion that the Sachems of the "Reformed" Tammany Society "politically represent only the departed spirits of TWEED and SWEENY," and the further opinion that these Sachems retain and exercise the right "to set at defiance the wishes and the votes of the entire Democracy of the City, and impose on them any General Committee they see fit."

Acting according to the same methods and under the same influences as the organization which sustained and profited by the frauds of the Ring, the Tammany Hall which is now seeking a renewal of absolute power over the City would certainly run in the same groove as did its prototype in 1869–71. An irresponsible and autocratic system of government, similar in all essential respects to that which the people are again asked to set up, found the Municipal debt on the 1st of January, 1869, amounting to $36,293,929. During 1869, Ring methods were imperfectly developed, but our Tammany rulers succeeded in bringing up the debt at the beginning of 1870, to $48,033,741 —a net increase of $11,739,812. In 1870, the Ring did much better, and added $25,339,810 to the City debt. During their last eight months of absolute power, ending with September, 1871, they did better still, having added a round twenty-four millions of dollars to the bonded debt. Here then, we have the unparalleled achievement of a knot of corrupt politicians backed by a corrupt and shameless political organization, being able, in two years and eight months to put a mortgage on the real estate of New-York tax-payers amounting to sixty-one millions of dollars.

In other words, when Tammany Hall was last intrusted with absolute power, the bonded debt of the City was doubled every two years. On this basis, that acknowledged Democratic authority, Mr. HENRY L. CLINTON, made an elaborate calculation showing what might have been expected had the Tammany party secured, as they hoped to do, control of the National Government on March 4, 1873. The result of that calculation was that had the same methods been applied to the national debt as the Tammany Ring used for the increase of the City debt, the amount of the national debt would in eight years have exceeded by seven and a half billions of dollars the value of all the property in the United States.

But even doubling once in two years falls short of an accurate description of the rate at which Tammany Hall government increased the City debt. When the power of our Municipal plunderers was temporarily crippled, the funded debt of the City amounted in round numbers to ninety-seven and a quarter millions of dollars. But in addition to this, there was an unliquidated debt amounting to a perfectly indefinite amount, for which the legal liability of the City has not, to this day, been fully ascertained. Three years after the fall of the Ring, some twenty millions of that unliquidated debt had become a legal charge against the City, and was represented by a corresponding increase in its bonded debt. The actual increase of the debt thus chargeable to our last experience of Tammany rule was over eighty millions of dollars. In other words, the system of government which JOHN KELLY is trying to revive in all its old perfection cost the tax-payers, in the item of new debt alone, at the rate of two and a half millions of dollars a month, or thirty millions of dollars a year.

The amount of unadjusted claims contracted, with trifling exceptions, during the period of Ring rule, was at the beginning of this year seven millions of dollars. Many of those now prominent in Tammany Hall are directly interested in these claims. The Democratic Assembly of last year passed a number of bills intended to legalize large amounts of this fraudulent mass of bogus debt. The bill in relation to taxed costs in street-opening cases would have taken some six hundred thousand dollars out of the City Treasury for the benefit of claimants who have never succeeded in obtaining recognition from the courts. The same body tried to swindle the City in a similar manner for the benefit of the holders of fraudulent armory leases, and Tammany Hall has shown that it means to make this attempt again by nominating as Senator in the Fifth District a person interested in one of the worst of these leases by which the old Ring was wont to reward its supporters. Tammany Hall is now, as heretofore, organized on the basis of public plunder, and the tax-payers may rest assured that one of the first uses to which it would put the absolute power which it seeks to regain would be the legalizing of these seven millions of claims which remain as the corrupt legacy of the last era of public plunder. That would satisfactorily complete the continuity of relation between the old Tammany and the new and would present for the imitation and rivalry of the Kelly Ring the finished achievement by their predecessors of the sum of eighty-seven millions of dollars added to the indebtedness of the City in thirty-two months.

SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

Any voter who will take the trouble to ascertain what officers are to be elected this Fall, and what will be their general powers and duties when elected, will find the canvass freed from a good deal of the confusion which the extraordinary claims of the Democratic Party have brought into it. It will not be difficult to see what the successful party, whichever it may be, can do for good or for harm, or to determine which one would be most likely to advance the interests of good government.

In the first place the voters are to choose seven officers of the State Government. Of these the general powers are as follows: The Secretary of State is a member of the Canal Board, and he occupies a position of honor in the State Government, having charge of the State seal, and attesting all acts of the State; the Controller is the chief financial officer of the State, responsible for the disbursement of the revenues according to law, and is a member of the Canal Board; the Treasurer is the Cashier of the State, keeping its funds and paying them out on the order of the proper officers, and is a member of the Canal Board; the Attorney General is the legal adviser of the State Government and the prosecuting officer in suits brought to secure or defend the rights and interests of the State, and is a member of the Canal Board; the State Engineer and Surveyor is the official expert of the State, in respect of its public works, on whom and on his assistants the proper performance of public contracts for construction largely depends, and is a member of the Canal Board; the Canal Commissioner is a member of the Canal Board, and one of a commission of three—practically he has in his hands the management of one-third of the canals; the Inspector of State Prisons is one of a board of three who have a nominal supervision of the State prisons, with very little real power. It will thus be seen that in the coming election six of the nine members of the Canal Board are to be chosen, and several officials whose distinct duties are important. The Democrats already possess the remaining members of the Canal Board and the Governor. If they succeed in choosing their candidates, they will have unlimited control of that important department of the State Government. If, with such control, they could be held to a strict responsibility, the question would be quite different from what it now is. But they cannot be, and we suggest that the presence in the board of such men as Mr. SEWARD, Mr. SPINNER, Mr. MERRITT, Mr. DANFORTH, Mr. CORNELL, and Mr. TINSLEY will be a practical safeguard to an honest and effective administration. By such an arrangement, which is the best practicable at present, neither party could gain any special advantage, and both would be held to their best behavior.

Besides the State officers whom we have named, the voters this year choose both branches of the Legislature. One of the principal features of the business of the next Legislature will be the redistricting of the State, that is, the subdivision of the State into districts, from each of which a member of the Assembly or a Senator shall be chosen. The fact that this is to be done next Winter makes the Legislature an object of special solicitude to the Democrats, who well know how the process could be made to unduly increase their political power, and lessen that of their opponents. If they gain a majority in the Legislature, we shall see how this can be done. On the other hand, if there is a Republican Legislature, there is sure to be a fair distribution of districts, because the Governor would veto a partisan one, if it were made in the interest of his opponents. That he would veto a partisan one made in the interest of his own supporters is not to be expected from a man who was a silent associate of the Tweed-Hoffman Ring.

As for canal reform, the Legislature, whether Democratic or Republican, is not likely to do much about it, because there is very little to be done. The last Legislature, at the Governor's solicitation, gave him the power to remove officials at discretion, and to appoint a Superintendent of Public Works, to ascertain what work was well done and what ill done. These were important measures, but the Governor has not yet used his power, and is not likely to at this late day. Yet it was about all the Legislature could do, and quite all it was asked to do in this direction, and it is not probable that any more will be feasible next year. You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink. The Legislature has clothed the Governor with extraordinary powers. It cannot make him use them, if he is not willing to do so.

We have thus described the practical effect of the election next Tuesday on the State Government, and we are quite willing to leave it to each candid voter to decide to which set of candidates he can with the greatest advantage give his support.

MACGEOGHEGAN'S MISERY.

Many years ago there existed a variety of Irishman known as the "United Irishman," and so called apparently for the Hibernian reason that he belonged to a society which divided all Ireland into two hostile political camps. The "United Irishman" held his meetings, accomplished his shindies, was betrayed by his united associates, and having thus fulfilled the purpose of his being, became extinct, and other varieties of united disunionists flourished in his stead. Recently an ex-priest residing in this City conceived the plan of reviving the Order of United Irishmen, for the purposes of patriotism in general, and the suppression of the Saxon in particular. The new society is styled the Order of United Irishmen Redivivi, the latter word being understood by the members to be pure Keltic, and to be equivalent to the more modern Irish word "hurroo." The order has already many adherents, and its oaths and ceremonies are said to be of the most blood-curdling and satisfactory character. The United Irishman Redivivus can obtain more solid denunciations of the Saxon, and more thrilling references to BRIAN BORU, at the meetings of his lodge, than were furnished to the Fenian at double the price of initiation.

To this unusually safe and satisfactory conspiracy one THOMAS J. MACGEOGHEGAN joined himself. He was duly sworn upon the Holy Poker; the Pipes that were played in the presence of MOSES in the vain hope of scaring that determined Hebrew out of Egypt, the Harp that was once, for some unexplained reason, heard in Tara's Halls, and upon other national Irish weapons of symbolic meaning. He bound himself to do almost everything, in a general way, in case the Society should need his services, and subscribed his unnecessarily complicated name to the books of the Order as readily as if he had not been named in a season when vowels and aspirates were exceptionally cheap, and had no more imposing name than that of MCGAGAN. Soon after, Mr. MACGEOGHEGAN was informed by his Confessor that he had committed a deadly sin by becoming a Revived United Irishman, and that if he took any interest in his ultimate salvation, he must withdraw from the Order and abjure its Reviver, ex-Father MCNAMARA. Like a wise man, MACGEOGHEGAN decided that to enjoy the pleasures of being revived for a season, at the cost of unlimited purgatory hereafter, would be an act of folly, and he therefore abandoned the society. Of course, he was called a traitor and a spy. That was to be expected, since out of every three Irishmen who join a conspiracy, two are always convinced of the treason of the third. He did not, however, anticipate that he would be tried and sentenced to death. Such, nevertheless was the course which his former Revived associates pursued, and Mr. MACGEOGHEGAN has since been officially informed that the death sentence will be inflicted upon him at an early day, and that even the Court of Appeals itself cannot save him.

How the death of the unfortunate Mr. MACGEOGHEGAN is to be accomplished has not been stated. He only knows, in a vague way, that he is "to die the death of a thraitor," whatever that may be. It is true that rumor asserts that he is to be shot, and that a Revived United Irishman engaged in the atrocious business of peddling maps has been appropriately selected to shoot him, and has already borrowed a large horse-pistol, and is looking for a man from whom to borrow ammunition, with which to do his terrible duty. While it is quite probable that the map-peddler is to be the executioner, it is extremely improbable that he will use so commonplace an instrument as a pistol. Doubtless, he will be permitted to employ weapons to which he is more accustomed. He will call upon Mr. MACGEOGHEGAN daily, with maps of the last war in Europe, of the United States, and of Central Africa, and will insist upon showing them to his victim, and urging him to buy them. Day by day, and week in and week out, the remorseless peddler will waylay MACGEOGHEGAN and unfurl his maps. The monotonous tale of the cheapness and excellence of these maps will undermine the victim's intellect and weaken his physical powers. In two months' time he will be forced to take to his bed, and when the executioner is thus enabled to sit on the wretched man's stomach, and unroll map after map, heedless of his tears and entreaties, the end will be close at hand. MACGEOGHEGAN will die a death more terrible than any which has ever been inflicted upon the most heinous of previous traitors, and the law will not be able to lay a finger upon his slayer.

Sad as is this picture, there does not seem to be any way of escape for the object of the united wrath of the Revived Irishmen. Mr. MACGEOGHEGAN has applied to the District Attorney to protect him, but District Attorneys, like the physicians frequently alluded to on tombstones, will prove to be in vain. Of what avail will it be to arrest ex-Father MCNAMARA? The map-peddler will still be able to accomplish his demoniacal purpose, and unless MACGEOGHEGAN soothes the United Irishmen Redivivi with "hot whiskies all around," he will have to fly to some retreat in the heart of Africa, where United Irishmen are never revived, and where map-peddlers cannot penetrate.

VIRGINIA CITY.

Those of our readers who were in California and Nevada before the completion of the Pacific Railroad will recall, as one of the most original scenes of that singular country, the appearance of "Virginia City." A grand mountain slope utterly bare of any vegetation, except the sage-bush and alkaline weeds, no tree visible for fifty miles, the horizon made up of bare, rolling hills and a few distant snow-peaks; in the midst of this desolate grandeur a busy village of wood houses, each building directly upon the street, where only now and then a brick front appeared; incessant activity in these narrow lanes and a stream of "mountain ships" or mule-teams pouring into the town —such was Virginia City before the railroad. A town famous for its enormous mining business over the Comstock Lode, from which millions of silver have been taken, and, at one time, infamous for its vices and intemperance.

The Pacific Road has civilized it somewhat, and caused the construction of better buildings, but both then and now it seemed built for food for the flames. Narrow streets of wooden buildings, few fire-proof structures, a position open to tremendous mountain gales, and often a defective supply of water—these make all the conditions of a disastrous fire. It is a part of the fatuity which characterizes mining operations, that companies with such large pecuniary interests as the Consolidated Virginia or Ophir, should have no fire-proof structures about their mills or shafts. Had the immense pits and galleries of wood of these mines caught fire the other day, they might have burned for months with a fearful sacrifice of both life and property.

Numbers of towns in California and Nevada are built just like Virginia City. No fire-engines can do anything against a conflagration when once started among such combustible material. The old Spaniards who preceded our people had structures far more impervious to fire, in their adobe or mud buildings. It is to be hoped that at least the mining companies in their new structures in Virginia City will employ the simple device of fire-proof partitions—or blocks of cement with air-chambers in them —iron girders, and brick or stone walls, with, what is most important, an open space around each mill and shaft, and plenty of local engines.

The streets, of course, will be filled with shanties, or wooden shells of houses, as before, for the Californian cannot wait for better shelter. But the mining companies which are now growing to such large properties, ought to protect themselves better. To their stock values the fire must be a serious blow for a time, but it is evident that mining for silver has now reached its scientific condition in the Sierras, and skillful men can work silver as they work iron or coal, with a steady profit, resulting from the application of labor-saving machines to save the former expensive hand labor, and from a constant economy in small expenses. The contribution of the Virginia City mines has always been an important element in our bullion supply. One mine, the Consolidated Virginia, is estimated to yield now $12,000,000 of silver per annum.

For a short time there will be much suffering and want as a result of the fire, especially in the cases of homeless women and children, on the approach of Winter. We trust the benevolent everywhere will extend a liberal hand to aid this poverty. But the great majority of those stripped of their homes are vigorous young men, who do not dread living in tents or shanties. They will soon take care of themselves, and if the mines only have work, they can speedily rebuild their shattered fortunes.

AMUSEMENTS.

GENERAL MENTION.

Herr Wachtel sings in "La Juive," at the Academy of Music, this evening.

Herr G. Carlberg has been engaged by Mr. Max Strakosch to conduct the Titiens concerts in Boston.

"Around the World," as represented under the management of the Kiralfy Brothers, is the attraction at the Brooklyn Theatre this week.

The benefit programme interpreted at Gilmore's Garden last evening will be repeated there on Saturday night, the proceeds of the performance accruing to the Philadelphia Centennial Fund.

The Titiens concert, which was to have occurred in Brooklyn last evening, has been indefinitely postponed, but the performance of "The Messiah," at Steinway Hall, will take place on Saturday afternoon, as announced.

Mr. Tom Karl is the tenor of the Adelaide Phillips Italian Opera Troupe. Mr. Strakosch was desirous of engaging Mr. Karl for the whole series of Titiens concerts, in the first of which he took part in this City, but previous arrangements with Miss Phillips forbade his acceptance of that impresario's offer.

M. Veniat, the jeune premier of the French Comedy Troupe, sustained a severe injury by the fall of a mantel on the stage of the Lyceum Theatre Wednesday night. M. Veniat was unable to appear last evening, and it being considered advisable to afford him as much repose as possible, the representations will not be resumed until to-morrow, when "Frou-Frou" is to be brought out.

A change of programme at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, last evening, brought Mr. Booth before a large audience as Pescara, in Shiel's "Apostate." Without at all impugning the merits of Mr. Booth's personation—a personation full of intensity, malignity and power—we scarcely think it sufficiently interesting to warrant the revival of the gloomy and stilted play. "Hamlet," we are glad to see, will be played to-morrow evening and Saturday afternoon, and, for next week, "Richelieu" and "Othello" are promised.

Gilmore's Garden was crowded in every part last night, the concert being given for the benefit of Mr. P. S. Gilmore. A magnificent programme was interpreted, Mr. Gustave Satter, a composer and pianist of world-wide reputation, contributing a piano performance of the overture to "Tannhaüser," in which it can fairly be said that the instrument, under the skilled and powerful touch of the virtuoso, really rivaled, in point of effect, the orchestra; Miss Thursby singing of Proch's "Air and Variations," and a long series of orchestral pieces, filling out the bill. Artistically and financially, the entertainment was exceedingly successful, and a fit close to a season of the interest of which no small share is due to the talent and work of Mr. Gilmore.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. Stewart L. Woodford is to speak in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on Monday evening.

The Republicans of Carbon County, Penn., have nominated William C. Morres, Jr., for State Senator.

The Providence (R. I.) Democratic City Convention last evening nominated Hon. Thomas Davis for Mayor.

A Jefferson County paper appeals to its readers not to vote "for the verdant theological student of the old clay pipe."

The Republican Convention of New-Brunswick, N. J., last night nominated Isaiah Rolfe, Mayor of that city, for the Assembly.

The Republican Convention of the Second Assembly District of Mercer County, N. J., last evening nominated John Hart Brewer for the Assembly.

The press and Bar of Orange County have declared almost unanimously for Jackson O. Dykeman for Judge of the Supreme Court for the Second District.

Rev. Azariah Eldridge has changed his mind, and will not run as an independent, disgruntled candidate for Congress in the First District of Massachusetts.

Hon. Henry N. Clark, of Wayne County, who was nominated for Senator by the Prohibition Convention in the Twenty-sixth District, positively declines to accept it.

The vote in Baltimore for Mayor on Wednesday was the largest ever cast in the city, and the Republicans will contest the election of Gen. Latrobe on the ground of fraud.

Mr. William L. Finn is to speak at the Academy of Music in Auburn to-night, on the claims of Democracy and of the candidates in nomination to the consideration of the electors of this State.

Gov. Allen was not pleased by the reception of his speech at Pittsburg Monday night, and he went right home again, canceling all his remaining engagements in Pennsylvania. Gen. Samuel F. Cary is to fill his appointments.

Hon. George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, expresses the opinion that the man who desires to be sure of the respect of his fellow-citizens had better not select the year in which he changes his political affiliations to be a candidate for office.

Complete returns from Ohio, all but one county being official, give Hayes 297,813; Allen, 292,264; Odell, 2,471. Hayes' majority over Allen, 5,549. Gen. Cary's vote is 4,296 less than Allen's, and his Republican opponent's majority for Lieutenant Governor is 9,963.

The desperate Democrats in the Thirty-second District have been circulating a preposterous story that Hon. Sherman Rogers, Republican candidate for State Senator in Erie County, had said that if both he and Mr. Vedder were elected, he should vote against the latter taking his seat. Mr. Rogers pronounces the story totally false.

Judge E. W. Sheldon, who opposed Senator Woodin two years ago, because of the persistent and severe personal attacks upon his character and integrity, has written a letter, in which he says that he is convinced he was greatly deceived, and now supports him for re-election as one whose record is irreproachable, and whose acts have been for the public good and in the interest of the great party which he represents.

A Democratic Mississippian writes to the Democratic Vicksburg Herald that it is much mistaken if it takes Gov. Ames to be a coward, and he adds: "I do not believe Gov. Ames realized the situation until he was waited on by the citizens on Wednesday; the agreement then entered into, while it has rendered him unpopular with some of his former friends, he is carrying out in good faith, and it is to be hoped for the peace and welfare of the State that we shall do the same."

In reply to inquiries, Mr. William N. Emerson, Republican candidate for the State Senate in Monroe County, says that he stands upon the common school plank of the Saratoga platform, and is unalterably opposed, under all circumstances, to any division of the school funds for the benefit of any religious denomination. He adds that he has not had time fully to investigate the effect of the amendment to "the act to incorporate the Sisterhood of Gray Nuns," but if elected his legislative action upon it will be governed by the general principle that no distinction should be made in our educational affairs on account of creed or nationality.

THE OCTAVIA AND HER CUBAN ARMS.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct 20.—The steamer Octavia, or Uruguay, is still in Kingston, and nothing has yet been decided regarding vessel or cargo. A Spanish gun-boat left here a few days ago for Kingston with dispatches to the Spanish Consul. The Spanish Government demand both vessel and cargo. It is hardly possible that the English authorities will pursue any other course than that of retaining vessel and cargo as a legal prize. The insurgents are keeping very quiet just now, here and around Guantanamo.

DISCOVERY OF THE SKELETON OF A MASTODON.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Rev. A. A. Haines, of Hamburg, N. J., while digging upon Michael Healy's farm, near Circleville, Orange County, N. Y., exhumed yesterday a complete skeleton of a mastodon that would stand eleven feet high. The bones are too decomposed for removal, except the teeth and one thigh-bone, the cap of which is the size of a man's skull. Mr. Haines has secured the bones of another mastodon, exhumed near the same place a few years ago, on the line of the Crawford Railroad. The skeleton is well preserved, and complete except the head.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

FAST MAIL TRAINS — RESIGNATION OF FIRE COMMISSIONER WILLIAMS—THE AUTHORITY TO INDORSE FOR A CORPORATION — APPOINTMENT OF CHIEF CLERK OF THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company submitted to the Post Office Department to-day a schedule which was approved, providing for two lightning-mail trains daily, instead of one as heretofore, between Baltimore, Washington, and Chicago. The service is to begin on Monday next, and will shorten the present schedule one day's time for all points west of the Mississippi River. Arrangements are being made for a Fast Mail from Washington to New-Orleans. By the influence of Senator Patterson, of South Carolina, it will pass through Danville, Charlotte, and Atlanta. Passengers will save seven and a half hours between Columbia and Washington.

Joseph Williams, President of the Board of Fire Commissioners, it will be recollected, was reported in the newspapers as saying at the Fire Engineers' Convention in New-York that when he ran with the machine if a party refused to contribute to the support of the Fire Department they spotted his house, and when a fire came they saved the adjoining property but permitted his to burn. The Board of Underwriters of this District asked the Board of Fire Commissioners to inquire into the truth of the report, which they did. The Commissioners of the District of Columbia not being satisfied with Mr. Williams' explanation, informed him that he must either make an absolute denial of the report or resign before the 5th of November. He did not choose to wait until that time, but yesterday tendered the resignation of his office, which has been accepted.

According to a recent circular from the Treasury, relative to the indorsement and payment of drafts of the Treasury and Post Office Departments, evidence of authority to indorse for incorporated or unincorporated companies, must accompany drafts drawn or indorsed to the order of such companies or associations. Such evidence should be in the form of an extract from the by-laws or records of the company or association showing the authority of the officer to indorse, receive moneys, &c., for the company, and giving his name and the date of his election or appointment, which extract should be certified to by the Secretary or President of the company, and its seal be affixed. If the company has no seal, the extract should be certified as correct by a Notary Public or other competent officer under his seal.

Commodores S. D. Trenchard and Alexander Murray, United States Navy, are to be examined by a board of naval officers next week for promotion to the grade of Rear Admiral.

Judge George H. Cowell, Waterbury, Conn., was to-day appointed Chief Clerk of the Post Office Department, with compensation of $2,200 per year, vice Col. J. W. Knowlton, recently appointed Postmaster at Bridgeport, Conn. Judge Cowell is a personal friend of Postmaster General Jewell. He is a graduate of Yale College, and a lawyer by profession. He was formerly Judge of the City Court of Waterbury, and has served as Clerk of both the House and Senate of the Connecticut Legislature. He is at present an officer in the Second Regiment of the Connecticut Militia.

The Postmaster General to-day removed from office Jefferson J. Hibbetts, Postmaster at Chetopah, Kan., for certifying to the sufficiency of the sureties on the bond of the accepted bidder on the Fort Concho and El Paso mail route last October, when he knew them to be worthless. He would be criminally prosecuted were not the department convinced that he had no intention of wronging the Government. J. W. Parker and H. Tisdale, ex-contractors in the mail service, were the parties who induced the straw bidder for the route above mentioned to bid upon the same, and who evidently induced the bidder and the Postmaster at Chetopah to act improperly in regard thereto. Tisdale performs the mail-messenger service at several points in Kansas, and Parker at a few others. The arrangements with them for such service will be immediately canceled, and others will be employed to perform it.

TILDEN AND DE WOLF.

DE WOLF'S ASSERTIONS ADMITTED IN THE GOVERNOR'S AUTHORIZED STATEMENT.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Evening Journal to-day contains the following:

"The statement of Gov. Tilden's approval of the award of $55,000 on Willard Johnson's contract, and of his promise to let it become a law, having been denied, and Delos De Wolf having written a letter reaffirming the statement, all its essential points are now admitted in the article, authorized by the Governor, in the Argus. There are some further points in the article which call for a correct presentation of the facts. It is stated therein that Auditor Thayer urged the bill. It was the duty of the Auditor to make up this bill, as all others relating to the Canal Department. He held frequent interviews with the Governor on canal matters, and furnished the Governor with a full list of the names and the amounts of the awards, so that he could act intelligently. The Governor had all the items officially before him. It is stated in the Governor's representation that the Auditor told Mr. Van Buren that 'if the bill did not become a law we should have no canals.' To show that this cannot be true, it is only necessary to say that the bill had nothing whatever to do with the present or required work on the canals, and provided only for the payment of work already done.

It is further stated in the article that the Auditor said he would not pay any improper claim under the bill. Very likely the Auditor did say so; that is his sworn duty, and he has not paid the claim of Willard Johnson under the bill. Willard Johnson raised the money on his certificates, but not from the Canal Department. He raised it upon the security furnished by the statement of Mr. De Wolf as to the assurances of Gov. Tilden. The Auditor had no conversation with Gov. Tilden as to the Willard Johnson award."

RIFLE SHOOTING.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 28.—The first annual prize meeting of the Rhode Island Rifle Association closed to-day. The weather was cold and the wind strong. The New-England match, which was commenced yesterday, was finished; the score, out of a possible 560, at 300 and 600 yards, standing as follows: Prescott Post, G. A. R. team, 232, Peabody Martin rifles; First Light Infantry team, 223, six Sharpe's Military, and two Sharpe's Creedmoor rifles; Wesson team, composed of marksmen from Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Connecticut, 133, various rifles; First Light Infantry, amateur team, 87, Springfield rifles. The highest individual scores were as follows: George R. Taylor, 37 out of a possible 70, Sharpe's Military; T. M. Jordan, 39, Sharpe's Creedmoor; N. Washburn, 38 Sharpe's Creedmoor.

In the afternoon Consolation match, at 200 yards, the highest scores were as follows: C. E. Roffee, 22, out of a possible 25; A. L. Sweet, 19; E. H. Brower, 17.

In an improvised match at 800 yards, T. M. Jordan scored 19, out of a possible 25, and George H. Clark 16. J. A. Monroe and A. L. Sweet scored 13 each.

This closed the meeting, which has been thoroughly successful, except in a pecuniary sense.

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Oct. 28.—The Evangelical Alliance resumed its session this morning, when an able paper on Art in its Relation to Worship" was read by Rev. Dr. Washburn, of Calvary Church, New-York. The discussion of this subject occupied the remainder of the morning session. In the afternoon Dr. Sampson, of Rutgers Institute, New-York, presented an elaborate essay on "Ultramontanism in its Relation to Civil Government," which was followed by an animated address on the same topic by Dr. Buddington. Dr. Maline, of Philadelphia and others. The evening session was given to the subject of intemperance and the best method of suppressing it, on which addresses of interest were delivered by Rev. W. M. Taylor, of New-York, and others. All the sessions were well attended. The conference will close to-morrow.

AN EXPLANATION THAT DOES NOT EXPLAIN.

Ex-Gov. Seymour who was President of the Democratic National Convention in 1868, has entered the canvass, and offers to show how the Democratic platform of that year was in favor of specie payments. The only fact he cites to that end is that a speech he himself made in favor of specie two days before the convention, was in the hands of every member. That may have been true, but the convention nevertheless, declared that all the bonds which did not "expressly state upon their face, or the law under which they were issued did not provide, that they shall be paid in coin, ought in justice to be paid in lawful money." This meant that we should pay a large part of our debt in paper promises, and that was repudiation pure and simple. Gov. Seymour knew it, but chose to be candidate for President on that platform notwithstanding, and the "hard-money" Democrats of to-day are not a whit stiffer in the backbone than was the famous "Peace-in-War Governor."

"SUSPENDING SENTENCE."

Some of Recorder Hackett's enemies are anxious to have him "explain" why he has sometimes suspended sentence in the case of criminals convicted in his court. We do not know but the Recorder may offer an explanation when a proper occasion arises, but it will not be needed by any one familiar with the criminal courts of this or any other State. The practice is a very common and perfectly proper one, and is resorted to in cases where the guilty person is shown not to be an habitual offender, but one who, with the dread of punishment hanging over him, may be kept from a life of crime. In such instances it has been the habit of Recorder Hackett to suspend sentence, and he has often, in this way, saved young men from ruin; but it is well known—probably to the Recorder's accusers—that when an offender thus treated is convicted a second time before Judge Hackett, he gets punished, not only for his second but for his first crime, to the full extent of the law. Any man who is not a fool might see, we should say, that the charge of leniency to criminals is not a good card to play against Judge Hackett.

THE ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE VIRGINIA DIVISION—ORATION OF MAJOR DANIEL ON THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28.—The Virginia division of the Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, Gen. William H. F. Lee, President, held its annual meeting to-night in the Capitol. The attendance of ladies and gentlemen was large, among them being Gov. Kemper, Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, and other distinguished personages. After prayer by Rev. D. J. W. Jones, Gen. Lee said that he presided by reason of the death of the late President, Gen. George E. Pickett, whose memory he declared would be held in honor as long as brave deeds and true manhood are respected among men, notwithstanding the assertion of the General in Chief of the Federal Army that the children of the Confederates would one day be ashamed that their fathers had fought for the Confederacy. He objected to the phrase too often used—South as well as North—that the Confederates fought for what they thought was right. They fought for what they knew was right. They, like the Greeks, fought for home, the graves of their sires, and their native land. Let us cling to right, even if it be necessary to turn our backs upon the seductive tones of might. But the Confederate soldier had given his parole, and for ten years he had kept it, as he would continue to keep it, ready to clasp hands even with a late foe, when he was recognized not only as a soldier, but as a fellow-citizen and patriot.

He then introduced Major John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg, the orator of the evening, who, before entering upon the discussion of his main topic, the battle of Gettysburg gave a rapid review of the earlier course of the war. His examination of that whole campaign was most elaborate, the movements of both armies in all their parts being closely compared and criticised. The battle of Gettysburg was the result of the mutual ignorance of both Lee and Meade of the advance of each other, both moving toward Gettysburg on misinformation as to each other's course, and meeting in the great decisive struggle as it were by chance. Among the causes which led to the defeat of Lee the orator enumerated the following: The absence of Stuart's cavalry, separated from Lee by a change of direction of the Federal Army while under Hooker; the ignorance of Stuart of the subsequent movements of Lee, and the consequent loss of information on the part of Lee of the Federal movements. The first day of the fight was a chapter of accidents, and the field was chosen rather by fate than by foresight, for it was Lee's intention not to attack the Federals in Pennsylvania if it could be avoided. The delay on the second day in making the attack, due perhaps to the tardiness of Longstreet's movements and the prolonged absence of Pickett's division, was fatal. The failure of Rhodes, either by miscalculation of distance or other cause, to support Early in time on the second day, was also cited among the causes of defeat. Again, on the third day, Longstreet repeated his unfortunate and unexplained delay; then there was the exhaustion of the supply of artillery ammunition, and besides all these the failure of Wilcox to close in upon Pickett's right, thereby causing a gap by which Pettigrew's and Trimble's Brigades were shattered and driven back, and Pickett was unsupported. Yet Lee nobly assumed the whole fault of defeat, saying to Wilcox: "Never mind, General, it is all my fault." The orator defended Lee for not advancing at once upon his temporary success of the first day, and also Meade for not immediately advancing upon Lee with all his forces on the failure of Pickett's charge. But the defeat was decisive. Had success attended the skill of Lee and the valor of his troops, Baltimore and Washington would have fallen, foreign recognition would have followed, and the full and firm establishment of the Confederacy would have been assured. If Lee failed he failed in an attempt that other men would pale to think of. Lee in assuming the fault of defeat had crucified his own glorious reputation as a vicarious sacrifice for his lieutenants and his men. It is glory enough for Virginia that she has given to the world and humanity Washington, Stonewall Jackson, and Lee. The whole oration was most brilliant and eloquent, and it was received with repeated and enthusiastic applause.

Gen. Early followed in a speech of congratulation that he and his hearers were not only men approved by their deeds, but the countrymen of Washington, and the contemporaries and comrades of Lee and Stonewall Jackson. After some words in favor of an equestrian statue of Lee, he gave some facts in the history of the Jackson statue, saying that the subscribers consisted not only of gentlemen but of several of the highest and noblest ladies of England. He then submitted a series of resolutions, presenting the thanks of the association to the subscribers to the Jackson statue, admitting them to the privileges of the association, electing Mr. Beresford Hope an honorary member, and directing that the resolutions, the insignia, and badge of the association be forwarded to him, which was adopted.

Majors J. Schiebert and Von Moltke, of the Prussian Army, formerly in the Confederate Army, were elected members. Thanks were voted the orator of the evening, and he was requested to furnish a copy of his address for publication. A resolution in favor of a memorial at Lexington over Jackson's grave was passed. Gen. W. H. F. Lee was elected President for the ensuing year, and Gens. Robert Ransom, Harry Heth, A. L. Long, and William Terry Vice Presidents. W. W. Corcoran, of Washington, was elected an honorary member. The association then partook of a grand banquet.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

In Philadelphia yesterday the Athletics defeated the St. Louis by 9 to 3.

D. R. Fogg, who shot his sweetheart Wednesday and then stabbed himself, died in St. Louis yesterday.

The Virginia Herald, of Fredericksburg, Va., announced yesterday that Gen. B. F. Butler had purchased a gold mine in that vicinity.

Henry Beekman, ringleader of a gang who attempted to wreck a train on the Eastern Railroad Sunday night, was arrested at Exeter, N. H., yesterday.

The steamer Leo, which struck on the wrecks near the Oyster Bed Beacon on the 26th inst., having returned to Savannah, Ga., for repairs, will leave again to-day for New-York.

A land-slide occurred on the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad to-day, about eight miles beyond the Fabyan House, by which a locomotive was thrown from the track, and the road blocked for some time.

Samuel Wheeler, aged eighty years, died in Boston yesterday. He was connected with the Equitable Safety Insurance Company for thirty years as Secretary and Vice President and belonged to a very old Boston family.

Joseph Fredewest, for the past forty years connected with the press of Europe and America, and latterly in the employ of the Wahrheitsfreund, a German Catholic paper of Cincinnati, died yesterday, aged fifty-eight years.

Pursuant to an act of the Maine Legislature, a public auction sale of State lands took place yesterday in Bangor. The receipts of the sale were $50,000. This finishes the sale of State lands, only 2,000 acres being reserved for settlement.

THE WAR ON THE NEW RING

THE TAMMANY REVOLT.

MORE RESIGNATIONS—KELLY ALARMED AT LAST.

"More resignations from the Tammany General Committee, and more a-coming" seems to be the cry all over the City, and Kelly is actually alarmed. Orders were issued yesterday citing the Fifth District General Committee to appear before the Committee on Discipline on Saturday afternoon to renew their pledges of loyalty. The old pledges are threadbare and new ones are wanted or the committee will be "reorganized." Some other district committees are also to appear at the same time, and will be "disciplined."

Last evening the following new letter of resignation was sent to Kelly:

NEW-YORK, Oct. 27, 1875.

Hon. John Kelly, Chairman Committee on Organization, Tammany Hall:

DEAR SIR: I am obliged, through the disaffection of my personal and other friends, on account of the consideration which certain faithful members of Tammany Hall have received, and the deception resorted to in making the several nominations of candidates in the Fourth Senatorial District, to tender to you my resignation as a member of the General Committee of Tammany Hall, for it will be utterly impossible for me to induce, by any means in my power, my friends to support the candidates for office presented by Tammany Hall. I am with great respect, yours, &c.,

AMBROSE O'NEILL, No. 148 Mulberry street.

Mr. O'Neill is one of the new members placed on this Second Assembly District Committee about two weeks ago, when it was "reorganized." He is a strong man, and was a candidate for Alderman last year, when, though defeated, he polled a large vote.

Daniel Kennedy, member of the First Assembly District, also sent in to the Chairman of the committee his resignation last evening. It was dated yesterday, and he gives as his reason for resigning that he "cannot consistently support the candidacy of John Fox for Senator, though he will support the other names on the ticket." Kennedy is a very influential man in the First Ward, and two years ago, as a candidate for Assembly, he polled 800 votes in that ward alone against the regular nominee. That ward is John Fox's ward—the one he says he "carries in his breeches-pocket."

It is well known that many resignations have been handed in to John Kelly since last Monday, which he has pocketed and suppressed, but by next Monday he will have more of them in his possession than his pockets will hold. In one instance the resignation of a member was torn up in the presence of a TIMES reporter to prevent publicity being given to it.

At the meeting of the Tammany Committee on Organization, yesterday afternoon, Edward Gale offered a resolution which set forth that 3,000 repeaters were to be brought from Philadelphia and Brooklyn to vote in the Anti-Tammany interest. This is a Kelly nightmare, and he caused Gale to introduce this resolution to create false impressions before election, and to palliate in some measure the defeat which he now sees reason to anticipate.

THE MORRISSEY CAMPAIGN.

THE CONTEST IN THE FOURTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT—THE WORKINGMEN AGAINST TAMMANY.

The interest in favor of Morrissey against John Fox for the Senatorship of the Fourth District is growing stronger. Tammany Hall is much alarmed at Morrissey's efforts, and the large number of resignations from the General committees since Morrissey opened the fight has caused great distrust of the district committees. John Morrissey received numerous delegations of working men yesterday and last night at his head-quarters in the Anson House, all of whom brought with them resolutions adopted by their respective organizations indorsing Morrissey as the friend of the working man.

Mr. Morrissey addressed five meetings last night, as follows: Independent Longshoremen, at Cosmopolitan Hall; an open-air mass-meeting in the Sixth Ward, opposite the Tombs; a meeting of the Hebrew Anti-Tammany Campaign Club of the Fourth Senatorial District, and an open-air ratification meeting in the Fifth Ward, corner of Beach and Greenwich streets.

Mr. Morrissey, at the last-named meeting, alluded to his expulsion from Tammany Hall, and protested against the reduction of the laborers' wages and the importation of Fitz John Porter from New-Jersey. He advised the people to vote against every one on the Tammany ticket, and if the working people let this chance slip by them they deserved, he said, no sympathy from any one. In conclusion, he said he was a carpet-bagger, as had been charged by his opponents, but with this difference, that he was a carpet-bagger from Ireland and not from Nova Scotia. Another thing, he was a resident of the Fifth Ward before his opponent ever saw New-York, or knew much about Nova Scotia either.

Col. Gildersleeve, Gen. Knox, ex-Judge Curtis, and other gentlemen subsequently addressed the meeting.

Another large mass-meeting was held in front of the Tombs, on Centre street, some twenty-five hundred persons being present. The streets were illuminated here also, and a band of music was in attendance. Mr. Morrissey was received with great applause, and spoke for ten minutes. He was followed by Dennis Burns, William Hollahan, County Clerk Walsh, Col. Gildersleeve, William H. Kennedy, and others, and the whole Anti-Tammany ticket was indorsed with cheers.

Mr. Morrissey subsequently met 300 men at Cosmopolitan Hall, corner of East Broadway and Catharine street. These were all members of the Longshoremen's Independent Association. He spoke here for fifteen minutes, and evoked most intense enthusiasm.

Shortly afterward Mr. Morrissey addressed some 400 persons at the head-quarters of the Hebrew Anti-Tammany Club of the Fourth Senatorial District, No. 41 East Broadway.

A ratification meeting was held also at No. 64 Greenwich street, under the management of the Morrissey Campaign Club. This meeting was only a few steps distant from Fox's residence. The assemblage was addressed by Ellis B. Schnabel, ex-Assistant Alderman George Krauss, and Michael Madigan.

RATIFICATION IN THE SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT.

A ratification meeting of the Seventeenth Assembly District Anti-Tammany Association was held last evening at National Hall, West Forty-fourth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The large hall was crowded, there being at one time about 1,500 persons present. One or two other district associations added to the enthusiasm of the evening by marching into the hall with their music and transparencies. Edmund Connelly was called to the chair. After a few remarks by the Chairman, Jerome Buck offered a series of resolutions severely criticising Tammany Hall, and calling all to the support of the Anti-Tammany nominees. The first speaker was Moritz Ellinger, candidate for Coroner, and he was followed by Patrick Welsh. Further remarks were made by Judge Birdsall; Hon. Francis M. Bixby, candidate for the Senate; George W. Plunkitt, candidate for Assembly; ex-Judge Connolly, who remarked that he had come 120 miles to see his friends; George M. Van Hoesen, candidate for one of the Civil Justices; Col. H. A. Gildersleeve, candidate for Judge of the Court of General Sessions, and several others.

TAMMANY MEASURES CONDEMNED.

A large meeting of Anti-Tammany voters was held last evening in Brevoort Hall, East Fifty-fourth street, Mr. Emanuel Hart presiding. Mr. Hart made a short speech, and his remarks were loudly applauded. Subsequently the gentleman yielded the chair to Judge John M. Barbour, whose appearance in the hall was the signal for loud applause. He said there was an argument which could well be used in this election, and that was this new-fangled Tammany idea of elevated railroads. He was not opposed to rapid transit, but the scheme now perfecting was not in the interest of the people. It is, said he, a Tammany measure all over. The five Commissioners were all John Kelly's appointments. It is a franchise worth twenty millions, and all this immense power is to be given out as Tammany dictates. Mr. Ira Shafer then addressed the meeting. He thought it somewhat singular that Kelly should forget his origin, and now that he is wealthy and can live like an aristocrat insist on cutting down the wages of laboring men. After speeches by John D. Coughlin, John C. Bushnell, Dr. Feodor Mierson, and others, the meeting was adjourned.

AN ANTI-TAMMANY NOMINATION INDORSED.

A meeting of the Republican Convention of the Sixteenth Assembly District was held last night at No. 230 Third avenue, for the purpose of nominating an Assemblyman. Mr. Michael Cregan made a few remarks, urging the necessity of harmony and indicating the unfeasibility of making a regular party nomination. As it would almost be an utter impossibility to carry that district for a straight-out Republican, he would therefore move that the convention indorse the Anti-Tammany candidate, George Y. Whitson. The motion was carried unanimously, and a committee was appointed to inform Mr. Whitson of the action of the convention and conduct him to the hall. Mr. Whitson has been a life-long resident of the district which has nominated him. He is a gentleman of capacity and integrity, and is indorsed by the Council of Political Reform.

THE GERMAN-AMERICANS.

The German-American citizens of the Sixth Assembly District met at Clinton Hall, No. 128 Clinton street, last night, and speeches were made by Judge Otterbourg, Samuel Hirsch, Mr. Lenhardt, and others, ratifying the Anti-Tammany nominations.

GOOD MEN TO ELECT.

From appearances in the Ninth Judicial District it is confidently asserted that Granville P. Hawes, the Republican candidate, will carry the election. Granville P. Hawes, the Republican nominee, is a graduate of Bowdoin College, and for nearly ten years has been in successful practice in this City. He has taken a very active interest in the affairs of the Twelfth Ward, and is at present the Chairman of the Board of School Trustees. In his duties as a school officer he has shown great executive ability, as is well known in the community. He is the right man for the place, and will undoubtedly command a large vote outside of his party. It would be well for the community at large if more such men would consent to become candidates, for it is high time that well-trained lawyers were elected to fill these important positions.

Archibald Watts, the well-known baker, who has been nominated by the Republican Convention for member of Assembly from the Twelfth Assembly District, was born in Brooklyn on April 18, 1842, but has lived in the district for nearly thirty years. During the greater portion of his life he took no active part in politics, but attended strictly to his business, from which he retired with a competency about a year ago. He has been a member of the Republican organization in the district for the past three or four years, and at present is its President. He has never held any office. The Germans in his district are very enthusiastic in his support, regarding him as a sterling business man, and one who will make an able legislator. The most respected citizens of the district also favor the nomination of Mr. Watts as a man not likely to abuse the confidence of his constituents.

Adam Lahr, the Republican candidate for Assembly from the Sixth District, is a man who has earned popularity among his neighbors by his neighborly qualities, and is probably the strongest candidate that could have been put up. He is a German by birth, but has resided in New-York since his early childhood. He learned the carpenter's trade when a boy and has been for years the proprietor of a carpenter's shop in Attorney street. In 1862 he was appointed a member of the Police force and remained in the position five years, doing duty manfully during the riot of 1863, and making a good record and a multitude of friends before he resigned from the force.

LOCAL POLITICAL NOTES.

A member of the Tammany General Committee, who is also an Alderman, informed a TIMES reporter yesterday that "Tammany Hall had got one thing sure—they had got every Police Captain from West Farms to the Battery with them, and if that wasn't equal to 10,000 votes, it was nothing at all."

Mr. Frederick Gugel, Jr., the regular Republican candidate for the Assembly for the Eighth District, in addition to his nomination by the Republicans has been nominated by the Liberal Republicans, Anti-Tammany Democrats, German-American Independent citizens, and Independent working men.

Counselor James D. McClelland, Chairman of the Canvassing Committee of the Anti-Tammany Democracy, having written to Recorder Hackett requesting him to address a public meeting in the City, has received a reply in which the Recorder states that inasmuch as he is now on the Bench and a candidate for re-election, he would consider it indelicate not only to speak at a political meeting, but even to attend one. "Whatever speech I could make," the Recorder adds, "is already to be found in my published letter of acceptance of the nomination of both conventions."

The independent German citizens of the Nineteenth Ward held a largely-attended meeting at their head-quarters, No. 940 First avenue, last evening, Anton Zeitner acting as Chairman, and Max Muller as Secretary. Messrs. Zeitner, Halm, and Weber addressed the meeting, and the following candidates were indorsed: John K. Hackett, for Recorder; Benjamin K. Phelps, for District Attorney; Jacob Hess, for Alderman at Large; Walter S. Pinckney, for Civil Judge, and J. Albert Englehart for member of Assembly.

In answer to a circular issued some days ago a large meeting of the young men of Brooklyn was held last evening in the Polytechnic Institute on Livingston street. The meeting was addressed by Gov. Woodford and Gen. Slocum, and a committee appointed to make arrangements for having the polls manned on election day to see that no illegal votes are cast. It was also resolved to visit the houses of the voters in the different wards and ascertain if the residences given on the registry books are correct.

A grand German Republican and Anti-Tammany mass-meeting will be held at Terrace Garden, Fifty-eighth street and Third avenue, this evening. The affair is under the management of the German Campaign Club of the Twentieth Assembly District, who are making preparations of the most extensive description. Among the prominent speakers whose services have been engaged are ex-Gov. Edward Salomon, Hon. William A. Darling, George Opdyke, Thomas S. Knox, and A. J. Dittenhoefer. Several prominent Republican and Anti-Tammany candidates will also be present and address the meeting.

Betting on the result of the coming State and County elections is becoming warmer as the canvass draws to a close, and the selling of pools on the question of who shall be the people's representative in one position or another is indulged in with even more vim than the pool-selling on the results of a horse-race. At the New-York Turf Exchange and at Johnson's pool-rooms the betting has been very active for several days past. Last evening a large crowd was assembled at both of these places, and the pool-selling continued almost without a break until nearly midnight. The contests between Morrissey and Fox, and Hackett and Smyth, were most sought for by pool purchasers. Morrissey and Hackett were the favorites at quite large odds. Some of the pools sold are appended:

Hackett	$25	$25	$25	$20	$40	$50
Smyth	13	12	13	10	21	32
Morrissey					$50	$20
Fox					33	8

THE PROSPECT IN THE CITY.

All the information received from the various districts in the City tend to show that the defeat of Tammany and John Kelly on Tuesday next will be most overwhelming. In the lower portions of the City the stampede from the organization has swelled into proportions which justly excite the alarm of the Kelly leaders. The First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Assembly Districts have practically declared in advance for the Anti-Tammany ticket, and no amount of work on the part of John Fox & Co. can change the result. In the heart of the City, and especially in the great up-town districts and the populous wards along the North and East Rivers, the exodus from the "regular" ranks exceeds anything in the memory of the oldest politicians. The working men from the Battery to Harlem are arrayed against the organization which their votes have so long upheld, and denounce John Kelly and his selfish abettors as the authors of all their wrongs. Experienced judges, who are thoroughly acquainted with the ground, say that districts above Twenty-third street will roll up an avalanche of majorities against the Kelly ticket. In many of the Senatorial and Assembly Districts here the Tammany candidates for Civil Justice, Assemblyman and other minor officers are so frightened that they are already trading off on the county ticket in order to save themselves. Every man for himself is the motto of this noble band, and the nominees of the Tammany general ticket are likely to suffer badly at the hands of their "friends." The Republican and Anti-Tammany majority on the County ticket is estimated by competent and impartial judges at from 15,000 to 30,000, the latter being the figure at which Recorder Hackett's majority is generally put. The betting in favor of Hackett is already $100 to $50, and by election day the valuation of his unfortunate competitor's chances will be even more insignificant. In the Fourth Senatorial District Morrissey's election by a majority of from 5,000 to 7,000 is conceded by the more intelligent of the Tammany politicians, and even the warmest friends of Fox ask large odds before they can be induced to stake anything on their candidate. What adds more than all to the anxieties of Kelly & Co. is the fact that the defection in their ranks is so interspersed that they hardly know whom to count on for assistance. Not less than one-fourth of the General Committee men who still remain faithful are to-day under the surveillance of "Billy" Boyd and his Committee on Discipline, and the number of private executions in the interest of the one-man power increases daily. Tammany prospects, according to the confessions of its own partisans, never looked blacker, and with strong and united work on the part of the people, its final and complete overthrow is as certain as the coming of election day.

JOHN KELLY'S MEETING.

THE TAMMANY RATIFICATION.

A LARGE GATHERING AT TAMMANY HALL—ADDRESSES BY SENATOR KERNAN, JAMES S. THAYER, PETER B. OLNEY, F. SMYTH, S. S. COX, AND OTHERS—THE ONE-MAN POWER DEFENDED.

John Kelly's ratification meeting at Tammany Hall last evening, compared with similar gatherings under the Tweed régime, was inferior both as to the number that was present and the social position of those who occupied seats upon the platform. Among the speakers were Senator Kernan, James S. Thayer, Peter B. Olney, Frederick Smyth, Hon. S. S. Cox, and Hon. Fernando Wood, and among those who occupied seats on the platform were John Kelly, Senator Francis Kernan, Fernando Wood, S. S. Cox, Augustus Schell, Richard Schell, Henry L. Clinton, Peter B. Olney, Frederick Smyth, Charles Underwood O'Connell, J. J. O'Donohue, Abram S. Hewitt, John P. O'Neill, John Boylan, Christopher Fine, Hugh A. McGrane, James Kelly, Allen Campbell, Owen Murphy, Thomas Dunlap, Col. Kerrigan, Edward D. Gale, William A. Boyd, Col. W. T. Pelton, of Gov. Tilden's staff; Thomas O'Callaghan, Edward L. Casey, Thomas Smith, Jr., John S. Thayes, Isaiah Rynders, John T. Agnew, John Reynolds, Arthur J. Delaney, Peter Trainor, Edward R. Olin, Col. Bagley, Congressman Benjamin Willis, George W. Varian, William Kenneally, ex-Mayor Gunther, ex-Mayor Tiemann, and others.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Christopher Fine called the meeting to order, and nominated Mr. Henry L. Clinton as Chairman, which motion was agreed to. Mr. Clinton, after coming forward, expressed regret for the action of the Democrats in Ohio, and eulogized Gov. Tilden and John Kelly for their efforts to promote reform in State and Municipal affairs. Alluding to the gentleman nominated for the office of Recorder he said that the convention rejected John K. Hackett because of his unfitness and affiliation with the late Tammany Ring. He denounced Senator Conkling for maligning and villifying the Democracy in alleging that John Kelly and Tammany Hall were no better than under the Tweed organization. The debt of the City had not increased since John Kelly came into power in the proportion which it increased during 1870, when Tweed controlled the City.

Mr. Clinton next denounced Senator Conkling for assailing "our trusted and honored leader, John Kelly." He defended John Kelly from the charges made against him, and said that the nominations were not made by Mr. Kelly, that one hundred others were as responsible for them as he was, and that he, Kelly, frequently relinquished his own opinions in favor of those put forward by others. [Great applause.]

John Kelly having been loudly called for came forward and was received with enthusiasm. He said he had no ill-feeling against Recorder Hackett, as he had never done him an injury. Mr. Kelly before retiring condemned the "unholy alliance" of the Republicans with the Anti-Tammanyites. Major Quincy next read the list of Vice Presidents, and after mentioning Mayor Wickham's name it was received with a storm of hisses again and again renewed.

Resolutions were adopted to the effect that the ticket nominated at Syracuse met their hearty and unqualified approbation; that they indorsed the principles enunciated in the platform there adopted; eulogizing "our illustrious Governor" for the reduction of the State tax seventeen per cent. in one year, and for his measures of reform in the management of the canals; that the Democratic Party has in Municipal matters given ample proof of the sincerity of its professions and has accomplished important measures of reform; and indorsing the action of the County and Judiciary Convention.

Mr. Clinton then introduced Senator Francis Kernan, who was received with applause. He commenced his speech by plunging into the well-ventilated topic of "reform," which he said had been begun by Gov. Tilden at Albany, and would be carried on until every department of the Government of the State of New-York had been purified. Corruption existed also in the Municipal Government of this City, but would be stopped if the Democratic voters only did their duty on election day. Mr. Kernan then dwelt at length on the canal frauds, and the part taken by Gov. Tilden in breaking up the political rings by means of which they had been perpetrated. The speaker next referred to the reduction of State taxes effected by the Governor, and prophesied that under the same administration next year a still further reduction would be effected. He appealed to every Republican and honest Democrat to support the Democratic State ticket, and punish the plunderers who had robbed the State Treasury. John Bigelow had been selected by the Democrats because they wanted to put into the Canal Board the man who had been engaged all Summer in ferreting out the canal frauds, and would know how to protect the interests of the citizens and carry out reform when he took his seat there, as the speaker believed he would. Charles Fairchild was nominated for Attorney General because he had transacted all the legal business in connection with the canal thefts, and was ably fitted to prosecute the suits commenced by his clients—the people. [Applause.] The speaker then took up and eulogized all the other nominees on the State ticket, and said that it was a ticket which would act entirely in harmony with Gov. Tilden in the cause of reform. If the Republican State ticket was elected it would rejoice every Republican peculator in the State, and be not only a shameful desertion but a lasting disgrace to the Democratic Party. "Reform" was the great issue of the present campaign, and they should not be diverted from that great object by side issues. The cry had been raised that their common schools had been assailed. This cry had been raised either to divert people from the question of reform or to stir up sectarian hate. They need not fear for the safety of the public schools. The State Constitution provided that the Common School fund should be preserved inviolate and its income applied only to the support of the common schools. Last year this Constitution had been amended, and now provided that neither the money nor the property of the State should be given to any city, town, or village, thus effectually depriving any school, whether public or private, religious or secular, from receiving any money that might be raised in the State. There was no danger of the public schools; they were imbedded in the Constitution of the State, and were beyond the power of any Legislature. [Applause.] They should be maintained as common schools, in which sound secular education should be imparted and in which the religious convictions of no parent or child should be insulted. They should be maintained for secular education alone; religious education, for which he had the most profound respect, should be imparted in Sunday-schools, private schools, and by the family fireside. [Applause.] If the attempt had been made to bring the common school question into the present canvass for the purpose of stirring up religious hate, every Christian man and good citizen should condemn such a course. Sectarian dissension and religious bigotry had proved a curse to every people among whom it had been allowed to take root. The persecution of a man because of his religious belief was at war with the Constitution of this glorious State of New-York. [Applause.] Yet those opposed to them in politics had sought to stir up between man and man that religious strife which was at war with the American Constitution, with the spirit of liberty, and with the doctrines of every denomination of Christianity. Let them whenever they saw the attempt made to stir up strife for the sake of creed, do all they could to prevent it. Men possessed the right, and it was their duty, in every land of liberty to worship their Creator according to the dictates of their own conscience, and not according to the consciences of others. The man who failed conscientiously to perform in religious matters what he believed to be his duty to his God could never be faithful to his fellow-man. No man should be accountable to his fellow-man in religious matters, but only to his Creator, who would be the judge of all. They would not be judged for any errors of judgment they may have committed, but whether they had tried to worship according to the dictates of their own conscience. He had lived for more than fifty years among men of all creeds differing from himself, and had never met so liberal or charitable a people in religious matters as this glorious American people. [Applause.] Honest men there were who entertained strong prejudices, but if his coreligionists cultivated charity and good will toward their neighbors they would obliterate all bitterness that might be stirred up, and thus discharge their duties to this glorious government, and to God, the judge of all. [Applause.] He spoke only of this matter as an American citizen, fearful that an effort might be made in the present canvass to foster this spirit of religious bitterness and hate. In conclusion, Mr. Kernan appealed to his hearers not only to elect the State ticket but to strengthen the hands of the head of the State Government in his efforts for reform, by sending to the Senate and Assembly representatives who would act in harmony with Gov. Tilden.

James S. Thayer next came forward to address the audience, who called loudly for Mr. Seymour, who was not present, although he was announced to speak. The Chairman having announced the absence of Mr. Seymour, a stampede took place. Mr. Thayer, amid much confusion, informed his audience that the Saint Tammany Society was not identical with the Tammany political society, and he defended Mr. Kelly from the charge of the one-man power made against him. He said that no secret conclave was held, that there was no secret inquisitorial power, that no one was prevented from proposing a candidate at the convention, and that he himself with ex-Mayor Tiemann withdrew Recorder Hackett's name on hearing John Kelly's address to the Convention. There was no under-handed movement or secret influence. Tammany was ever the friend of the people. It hunted the Know-nothings and stood by the masses. It was fortunate for them that they had a man at the head of their organization who knew how to stem the various currents of public opinion, and who was in every way capable of promoting their interests.

Mr. Peter B. Olney, the candidate for District Attorney, was the next speaker. He was certain of the success of their ticket on Tuesday next, and he assured them that the party of reform in this City to-day was the party led by the Tammany organization. He promised if he were chosen to the office to which he aspires that he would discharge his duties in an efficient manner.

Hon. Fernando Wood next addressed the audience, devoting his oratorical powers to an attack on the Republican Party and Hon. Roscoe Conkling, its exponent. The wily Congressman contrived to introduce into his speech an allusion to his long political career, embracing as it did an election to Congress forty years ago, and a six years' tenure of office as Mayor of the City, forgetting, however, to allude to the notorious events in the history of the City Government which occurred during his administration.

Mr. Frederick Smyth, the candidate for Recorder, followed with a few remarks thanking them for his nomination, and promising, if elected, to discharge his duties faithfully. Hon. S. S. Cox followed with a defense of Tammany Hall in the matter of the laborers' wages. He said Tammany Hall was not responsible for the reduction, and without placing the responsibility upon any one he evaded the question and spoke about the increase in prices and the inability of the working man to obtain as much for a dollar now as he did in 1860. Mr. Cox concluded by a denunciation of President Grant and his Cabinet. John P. O'Neill made a short speech, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE ITALIAN MURDERS IN DENVER.

DENVER, Colorado, Oct. 28.—Three of the participants in the murder of four Italians, in this city recently, have been arrested. One of them, an Italian, confesses that he played his harp while five others cut the throats of their victims. Three of the murderers, Galatti and Frank Roldere, Italians, and a Mexican, are still at large, but it is thought they will be overtaken in a few hours. Intense indignation is felt, but it is believed that the culprits will be dealt with according to law.

AMUSEMENTS.

COLOSSEUM.

EXTRAORDINARY ANNOUNCEMENT.

This gigantic building, completely remodeled and renovated, is now nearly ready to receive the superb colossal picture, LIENARD'S

"PRUSSIAN SIEGE OF PARIS,"

just arrived here under the personal charge of the soldier-artist, Col. FORTUNE LIENARD, of the French Army, who, with thirty Parisian artists of note, (such as BETSELLIER, LEHNERT, GRANDCHAMPS-PLONSEY, DESBROSSES BRONCOUS, and their confrères,) was engaged for almost a year in its execution.

Covering nearly 20,000 square feet of canvas, and replete with superb realistic accompaniments and effects, this masterpiece constitutes the most ever produced in any age or country. As a contribution to art, nothing of the same colossal proportions has ever been attempted. As an historical presentation of the dramatic and sanguinary splendors of War, it is absolutely and photographically perfect. It is believed to be the most vividly realistic and impressive work of the kind in the world.

The "Siege of Paris" is intended for the Centennial Exposition. It can be exhibited here for a brief season only.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

THE MURDERED PEDDLER'S ASSASSINS.

TWO OF THE COLORED MURDERERS TRIED, CONVICTED, AND SENTENCED TO BE HANGED—THE JURY RENDER THE VERDICT WITHOUT LEAVING THEIR SEATS—THE COUNSEL FOR THE DEFENDANTS PRESENT NO DEFENSE—THE OTHER PRISONER TO BE TRIED TO-DAY.

William Thompson and William Ellis, two of the colored men arrested for the murder of Abraham Weissberg on Sept. 17, were convicted yesterday of murder in the first degree, before Judge Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. Weissberg was a Hebrew peddler, and the murder took place in Lydig's Woods in West Farms, a portion of the newly acquired Twenty-third Ward. It is the latest horror which has occurred in that ill-fated spot in which so many murders and suicides have taken place, and is of a kindred nature to those which have for a hundred years made Lydig's Woods a place shunned by the superstitious.

The men were brought to court yesterday morning from the Tombs by Deputy Sheriffs Coughlin and Daly. Weston and Thompson are of medium height, stoutly built, and apparently about thirty-five years old. Ellis is of lighter build and shorter, and is apparently about twenty-five years old. Weston, with the exception of a defect in one eye, is the best looking of the three, and was the most neatly dressed. Weston elected to be tried separately, and Thompson and Ellis were arraigned for trial. District Attorney Phelps and Assistant District Attorneys Rollins and Lyon appeared for the people, and Messrs. William F. Kintzing and John O. Mott for the defendants.

Mr. Kintzing, for the purpose of availing himself of whatever benefits may possibly eventually result from the step, interposed a plea in abatement challenging the array of petit jurors on the ground that Thomas Dunlap is not the legal Commissioner of Jurors, and the plea, as in all previous cases, was overruled and an exception taken. The choosing of a jury occupied an hour and three-quarters, during which time the defense availed itself of the privilege of a peremptory challenge thirteen times. The jury as finally chosen was a most intelligent one, and five of its members were on the jury which the day before had found Dolan guilty of murder in the first degree.

A recess was taken from 12:50 to 2 P. M. on account of the non-arrival of several witnesses for the prosecution. Before recess, Judge Barrett cautioned the jury not to converse with any one on the case, and also warned the remaining jurors on the panel not to remain in the court-room during the trial of Ellis and Thompson, as Weston's case, which comes up to-day, would probably be tried on the same evidence, and as they might be called on to try the case it was desirable that their minds should not be prejudiced.

After recess the jury was sworn, and at 2:10 Assistant District Attorney Lyon addressed the jury. He said that on Sunday, Sept. 17, at 7 o'clock in the morning, there was found in a gloomy, lonely place, known as Lydig's Woods, about three miles from Harlem Bridge, the body of a man terribly mangled. Near by was found a pack and bundle such as are commonly carried by peddlers, which had been ransacked. The indications were that they had been there some little time. The Police were informed, and it was learned that a peddler with a pack had been seen at about 9 A. M. on the preceding Friday. He was then sitting on the steps of Mr. Livingston's grocery, eating crackers. While he sat there three negroes accosted him and passed on. Fifteen minutes after the peddler followed and was never again seen alive. Three-quarters of an hour afterward, Livingston saw the three negroes again. When he saw them first two of them carried canes and one a club, the smaller end of which was the size of a man's wrist, while at the end was a knob as large as a man's fist. Returning they carried no sticks and walked quickly away. On their way toward the City they were seen by other witnesses in a vacant lot, where afterward fragments of paper were found which proved to be the property of Abraham Weissberg. It was learned that Abraham Weissberg had left his residence in Rivington street on the preceding Monday, and the remains of the murdered man were identified as his while he lay in his coffin. The prisoners were seen in various places on their way to the City, the last time in a tavern where they drank, offering a $5 bill in payment. That afternoon they disappeared from the view of everybody. On the following Tuesday the two men now at the bar were arrested at Fox's Corner, on their way back to the woods. It appeared that they had been staying at No. 16 Grand street, and that it was proposed to go back for another job. Weston refused, but the others went. They were arrested on a charge of vagrancy, and made several statements which were proved to be false."

John Livingston was the first witness called. He testified that he kept a grocery store in Bronxville, about a mile above West Farms. Lydig's Woods was a lonely place, extending about a mile on both sides of the road between his place and West Farms. On the morning of Sept. 17 he had seen a peddler at his door eating some crackers which he had bought in the store. He was a small-sized, poor, miserable-looking man and had a pack. He sat on the steps about fifteen or twenty minutes. While he was there witness saw three colored men come down the road. Thompson and Weston were two of three. The other one witness could not identify; thought all of them carried sticks or canes. Weston stopped and asked for a cracker. The peddler gave him one. Shortly afterward the three negroes passed down the road and in a few minutes the peddler followed. About three-quarters of an hour afterward witness drove down the road and saw the three negroes at the south end of Lydig's Woods.

William L. Conway testified that at about 9 o'clock the same morning the three negroes called at his house, about a mile from Livingston's, and asked for something to eat. Mrs. Eleanor Gee, a neighbor of Mr. Conway's, testified that they called at her house a little after 9 the same morning and asked for something to eat. Jonathan Chadwick testified that he was working on a house opposite Livingston's and saw the negroes accost the peddler; Weston said, "How do you do, old fellow?" or something like that, and shook hands with him. Thomas Lozer saw the three prisoners together on the Westchester road on Thursday, the day before the murder, at about 10 o'clock in the morning. John Weirel testified that at about 10:30 A. M. on the day of the murder Thompson, Weston, and another colored man came into his father's saloon, in Port Morris, and called for liquor; they drank hastily and offered a $5 bill in payment; they received their change and went on their way toward Harlem Bridge.

Police Justice Nelson K. Wheeler identified the written examinations of Thompson and Ellis, taken before him in Fordham. He was not certain that he had advised them before examination of their right to have counsel and to have time to send for counsel, but according to his best recollection he had so advised them. Counsel for defense objected to the admission of the statements under the statute governing their taking, on the ground that it did not affirmatively appear that the prisoners had been fully advised of their rights. Judge Barrett overruled the objection, and an exception was noted. The statements of Ellis and Thompson, which have already been published in the TIMES, were then read to the jury.

George Saxton, a colored man living in West Farms, testified to finding the body of a man in the woods; he went home and reported what he had seen.

David Langrein, a son-in-law of the last witness, testified that he, with four others, went to the woods on hearing Saxton's report; they found the body and reported it to the Police.

Dr. C. F. Rodenstein testified that he made the post-mortem examination; found several wounds on the face, one or two on the neck, a compound fracture on one side of the skull, and a simple fracture on the other; in his judgment death resulted from shock, compression of the brain, and loss of blood.

On cross-examination he said that the body was not opened, and admitted that death might have been caused by disease, and the wounds might have been inflicted after death. Martin Fusliecr and John Blaney testified to seeing three negroes in a vacant lot shortly after the murder; in the lot were afterward found scraps of paper which were pieced together, and proved to be bills, &c., in the name of Abraham Weissberg, and a statement written in the Chaldaic language, reading as follows:

> This is to show whoever finds my body that my name is Abraham Weissberg, that I am forty-nine years old, have lived in New-York City, and that the Congregation Beth Hagodol, of which I am a member, will give further information concerning me.
>
> (Signed,) ..BRAHAM WEISSBERG.

The seal of the congregation named was annexed to the paper.

Coroner John M. Miller testified to having examined the prisoners at the inquest and used their testimony as evidence. Counselor Mott moved to strike out the statements to the Coroner, on the ground that the people, having used these men as witnesses, ought not to use their testimony against them. Overruled, and exception taken. The statements already published were then introduced.

Capt. Henry Hedden testified that Ellis, when arrested, had on a shirt similar to those in the peddler's pack; Ellis had told him that he had worn it two months and had washed it; but witness swore it had not been washed, as was shown by the glazed cloth around the button-holes.

Betsey Wolff, of No. 185 Rivington street, testified that Weissberg had lived in her house; he left home on the Monday preceding the murder, carrying his pack and basket, and she never saw him after.

Officer John McGowan testified to the arrest of Ellis and Thompson at Fox's Corner, on the Southern Boulevard; found a pocket-book on Thompson similar to those in the peddler's pack. The pocket-book was shown and identified.

The prosecution then rested their case. Counselor Mott said: May it please the Court: My learned friend and myself were assigned by the learned Recorder in the General Sessions, to the defense of this case. We have endeavored to see that these men should have a fair trial, and we have no witnesses to produce, and do not think it best to sum up the case, but prefer that it should go to the jury under your Honor's charge. Judge Barrett said that counsel had certainly done their work creditably and fairly. The District Attorney said that he did not wish to add anything in the way of argument to the case, but would allow it to go to the jury under the Judge's charge.

Judge Barrett then said to the jury: The prisoners at the bar are indicted for an alleged murder in the first degree, for taking the life of one Abraham Weissberg, on Sept. 17, 1875. The prosecution must make out that Abraham Weissberg is dead; that he came to his death through the acts of the prisoners at the bar; that these acts were intentional and premeditated. The evidence goes to prove that the deceased was a peddler. We have also the evidence of those who saw him in life and saw the negroes with him, and saw him follow on in the direction in which they went. This was the last time he was seen alive. We have also the evidence in relation to the finding of the body two days later and the post-mortem examination. We have also the statements of the prisoners themselves. It is for you to say on the evidence whether there is any doubt that the prisoners took the life of Abraham Weissberg with premeditation. I take it that there is no doubt that the death was caused by them.

District Attorney Phelps—I ask your Honor to charge that if the death was caused by the acts of any of them when they were all together and in collusion, each one is guilty.

Judge Barrett—I so charge.

Counselor Kintzing—I ask your Honor to charge that the jury have the power to bring in a verdict of murder in the second degree under the indictment.

Judge Barrett—They have that power. It is for them to say.

District Attorney Phelps—I ask your Honor to charge that if the killing was done in the commission of a felony it is murder in the first degree under the statute.

Judge Barrett—I so charge.

The jury then, without retiring from the jury-box, rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree. The District Attorney then moved that sentence be imposed.

Counselor Kintzing moved an arrest of judgment on the ground of the exception already taken to the impaneling of the petit jury, and also on the ground of lack of power in the court to try the case, as the transfer from the General Sessions, in which court the prisoners were indicted, was made after issue was joined. The court denied the motion, and an exception was taken.

During the proceedings which followed the rendering of the verdict, Ellis, who had worn a hopeful look before, bowed his head on his hand and appeared to be shedding tears. Thompson, on the other hand, had shown no appearance of hope, and maintained the same dogged and observing look which he had worn all day. They were then asked if they had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced. Counselor Kintzing answered that they had not.

The Judge then pronounced sentence in the following words: "William Ellis and William Thompson, you have been most justly convicted of one of the most horrible, revolting, and atrocious crimes ever committed in this county. It is almost inconceivable that persons in the guise of human beings should have done what you have for so insufficient a motive. You slaughtered your unhappy victim with the same callousness and heartlessness with which a butcher might kill an animal. The only redeeming feature in your case is the confession you have made. I trust in God that that confession will prove to be the first step toward the repentance for which the law humanely gives you ample time—time which the court grants you. The judgment of the court is that you be taken to the City Prison, and there kept until Friday, Dec. 17, 1875, when you and each of you be hanged by the neck until you be dead." The prisoners were then taken to the Tombs, and the court adjourned. Weston will be tried to-day.

EXPLOITS OF DARING THIEVES.

HEAVY BURGLARY IN BROOME STREET—DESPERATE ENCOUNTER WITH A ROBBER—THEFT IN THE POST OFFICE.

Between 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening and 8 o'clock yesterday morning the store of L. B. Binsse & Co., importers of fancy goods, situated on the second floor of the building Nos. 425 and 427 Broome street, was entered by burglars and robbed of property valued at over $5,000. The building mentioned is situated on the south-east corner of Broome and Crosby streets, with an entrance on both streets. The burglars effected an entrance to the place by unlocking the door on the Crosby street side of the building with false keys, and thus gained access to the staircase leading to the upper floors of the building. After locking the door behind them the burglars ascended to the second floor, where they attempted to force open the door leading from the hallway to the store of L. B. Binsse & Co. After some time spent in endeavoring to force this door open with a "jimmy," the burglars found that it was secured by a heavy bar on the inside. They then with a brace and bit bored a number of holes through the door and removed the panel. The bar was then displaced and free access to the store was had. The thieves selected from the stock in the place 460 boxes of fine pearl buttons, valued at between $5,000 and $6,000, with which they decamped, making their exit in the same manner in which they had entered the building, locking the outside door after them. The robbery was not discovered until the store was opened for business yesterday morning. On the stairway were found a brace and bit, a new "jimmy," and a big strap, which the burglars had abandoned in their flight. Owing to the bulk of the property, it is apparent that the burglars must have used a wagon to carry off the goods, and it is strange that the carrying away of the goods was not noticed by the policemen on post in Broome and Crosby streets, or by a private watchman who is employed to watch the premises. This is the third time that the firm have been robbed in a similar manner.

At 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning Joseph Real, a licensed vender, about eighteen years of age, walked into the grocery store of John Gartleman, No. 985 First avenue, and making his way behind the counter, attempted to rob the money-drawer. While engaged in rifling the till he was discovered by John H. Middiekamp, aged eighteen, a clerk in Mr. Gartleman's employ. Middiekamp caught Real and attempted to arrest him. The thief turned upon his captor and drawing a pocket-knife stabbed him in the back of the head, inflicting a severe wound. Gartleman, the proprietor of the store, went to the assistance of his clerk, and was also stabbed in the breast by Real, but the wound was not of a serious nature. John Gartleman, Jr., a son of the proprietor, also took part in the affray, and was stabbed twice by Real, on the forehead and left cheek. The scuffle attracted a crowd to the store, and Real was disarmed and held until the arrival of Patrolman Driscoll, of the Nineteenth Precinct, who took the desperate thief to the East Fifty-ninth Street Police Station. The wounded men were attended by Drs. McDonnell and Greenbough. Real was taken to the Fourth District Police Court, and committed to prison.

Burglars forced an entrance to the premises No. 130 South Fifth avenue, occupied by Hilsenbeck & Adler, manufacturers of fur caps, on Wednesday night, and carried off goods valued at $750. The burglars passed through the hallway of the tenement-house No. 126 South Fifth avenue to the roof, whence they made their way to the roof of No. 128, which is a two-story building, one story lower than the building which was robbed. From the roof of No. 128 they cut through a 16-inch brick wall into the third floor of the adjoining building. They selected from the stock thirty-seven seal-skin caps valued at $300, a bundle of seal skins valued at $300, and two sacques work $150, with which they escaped. Their flight must have been very hurried, as they abandoned the bundle of caps in the hallway of the tenement-house referred to above, where they were found by the patrolman on post.

George Wilt, a stamp clerk employed in the General Post Office, was sent to make a return of $181 to the Cashier's office on Wednesday. Instead of entering the office he went to one the windows in the lobby and placed the money on the shelf at the window. While waiting for the appearance of the Cashier, he was tapped on the shoulder by a young man, who told him he had dropped something. He stooped, and in an instant the courteous stranger and the money he had laid down at the window had disappeared.

A stranger called at the residence of H. H. Walker, No. 284 Lexington avenue, on Wednesday and presented a letter which he wished delivered to Mr. Walker. While the servant was absent the stranger walked away with an overcoat valued at $45, which he took from the hat-rack in the hall.

COL. KERRIGAN'S CONTEMPT.

The question of Col. James E. Kerrigan's alleged contempt before the Board of Police was resumed yesterday, Mr. Hamilton Cole, the Referee appointed by Judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, holding court at Police Head-quarters owing to the inability of the Police Commissioners to attend at his office. Col. Kerrigan explained his non-attendance on the first day by saying that while on his way to Police Head-quarters he was informed by a sporting man named Moodie that the board had adjourned. Commissioner Disbecker was asked whether he had resigned or was aware that charges had been made against him before the Assembly Committee. Mr. McLean, counsel for the Police Board, objected. Messrs. Spellissy & Gibbons, counsel for Col. Kerrigan, persisted in pressing the questions, which were ruled out by Mr. Cole. President Matsell was examined and asked whether he was a citizen. On replying in the affirmative, he was asked whether he was born in this City, to which he also answered "yes." The questions asked Commissioner Disbecker were put to him and again ruled out. Col. Kerrigan admitted having used the language complained of, and the case was then closed. The counsel will submit any briefs they may desire before next Thursday, when Mr. Cole will make his report to Judge Lawrence.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

SPECULATION IN PRODUCE.

NO LESS THAN FOUR "CORNERS" IN OPERATION IN THE MARKET—COTTON BROUGHT FROM PHILADELPHIA AND BOSTON FOR DELIVERY ON SATURDAY.

There are no less than four "corners" in staples in operation at the present time in this market. The one that has been longest under way is in cotton for October delivery. A ring of speculators have managed to get hold of the market and have succeeded in maintaining a strong grasp. A large number of notices have been issued for tender on Saturday. Most of those who have been caught are able to bear their losses. They are, however, striving desperately to save something from the wreck. One house having received notice on Wednesday that the steamer Leo for this port had gone ashore near Savannah, with 900 bales of cotton to them on board, sent an order at once to Philadelphia for 1,000 bales. The cotton was bought during the afternoon, and a special train chartered which started at 11 P. M. The cotton arrived in Jersey City yesterday morning, was immediately transferred to lighters, and is now stored in Brooklyn ready for delivery on Saturday. Another house will have 1,500 bales from Boston to-day. The price is 1¼ cents above November. The operation has driven spinners almost entirely from this market.

The next corner, in duration, is one in lard, for October. On Tuesday the market opened at 14 3-16 cents, and closed active at 14⅝ cents bid. On Wednesday the opening price was 14⅞ cents and the closing 15⅞ cents paid. During the same period cash lard, not on contract, declined from 14 cents to 13½ cents and 13⅝ cents on new Western prime. The bears are said to be 7,000 tierces short. This corner is the manipulation of a single individual, through a well-known Broad street broker.

A corner in October pork was begun early on Wednesday morning, sellers withdrawing at the prices of the previous day, $21 75, and demanding $22. Yesterday the market was greatly agitated and the price rose to $22 50, and advance of seventy-five cents per barrel, with $21 25 bid and cash lots held at $22 62½. The parties forcing pork are what are known in Chicago as "Scalpers." They claim that the stock on the spot is not over five thousand barrels, and assert that this has been largely oversold. They declare their intention of working the market for all it is worth.

There is also a heavy operation in oats for October. It is rumored that dealers are between 30,000 and 40,000 bushels short of No. 2 Chicago mixed. The speculators, however, have not been able to advance the market more than a cent, dealers holding off in hope that some new arrivals may help them out of the difficulty.

CRICKET IN NEW-JERSEY.

Yesterday the Manhattan Cricket Club went to Paterson to play the Paterson Club. Owing to the late time of starting two innings could not be played out, and the Patersonians won in the first innings by 21. The umpires were Messrs. Rowery and Brewster.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL QUESTION.

A meeting of Council No. 1 of the Common School League was held last evening at their rooms, No. 142 Sixth avenue. The most important business transacted during the evening was the following resolution, offered by Mr. George S. McWatters:

To His Excellency, the Governor of the State of New-York:

DEAR SIR: In reading the amended Constitution of this State we find in article 3, section 18, clause 12, the following: "The Legislature shall not pass a private or local bill granting to any corporation, association, or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity, or franchise whatever." We also read in the published report of the proceedings of the last Legislature the following:

CHAPTER 353.

An act to amend 324 of the Laws of 1871, entitled: "An act to incorporate 'The Sisterhood of Grey Nuns' in the State of New-York." Passed May 15, 1875.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 324, of the Laws of 1871, entitled: "An act to incorporate 'The Sisterhood of Grey Nuns' in the State of New-York," passed April 6, 1871, is hereby amended by adding thereto as follows:

SEC. 7. The said corporation is hereby authorized to grant diplomas and honorary testimonials, in such form and under such regulations as its Board of Trustees may determine, to any person who shall have or may hereafter be graduated at any seminary of learning of said corporation located within this State; and any such graduate to whom a diploma may be awarded may file such diploma, or a duplicate thereof, in the Department of Public Instruction, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction may thereupon, in his discretion, issue a certificate to the effect that such graduate is a qualified teacher of the common schools of this State.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

We, the American Common School League, believe the passage of the above amendment by the Legislature, and its ratification by you as Governor of the State of New-York, to be a violation of the article, section, and clause of the Constitution as quoted above, and we would most respectfully urge that in your next annual message you will recommend a repeal of the said amendment, in accordance with your oath of office. Most respectfully submitted by the League.

The contemplated action of this committee is the circulation of a petition throughout the State for the signatures of all friends of the public schools.

THE RAILWAY CONDUCTORS' CONVENTION.

The second day's session of the delegates to the Eighth Annual Convention of the Conductors' Life Insurance Association of the United States and Canada, was held yesterday at the Grand Central Hotel, John W. Seymour, of the Illinois Central Railroad, presiding. The Committee on Finance reported having examined the books and accounts of the Grand Treasurer, and that they were found correct in every particular. The Committee on Constitution and By-laws submitted a report in which they recommended a reduction of the salary of the Grand Secretary and Treasurer from $2,000 to $1,500 per annum. The suggestion made the previous day that the annual sessions of the Association be held in July or in August instead of October, was not favorably considered by the committee. The convention adopted the report, article 5 of the constitution being changed accordingly. Mr. Culbertson, the Grand Treasurer, recommended the decrease in his own salary. The convention then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing term, with the following result: President, John W. Seymour, of the Illinois Central Railroad; First Vice President, John C. Blood, of the Boston, Lowell and Nashua Railroad; Second Vice President, S. M. Hibbard, of the Missouri, Fort Scott and Gulf Railroad; Grand Secretary and Treasurer, Joseph F. Culbertson. A pleasing feature of the day's session was the conductors' visit to the hall where the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were assembled in national council. The friendly meeting of the representative conductors and their brethren lasted for nearly two hours.

ACCIDENT AT THE TAMMANY MEETING.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening a bomb exploded on the sidewalk at the corner of Fourteenth street and Irving place, and the fragments of the shell struck a number of officers standing near. Sergt. Eakins was struck on the left hip, the fragment of the bomb passing through his clothes and causing a slight flesh wound. Patrolman Warren Harrington, of the Eighth Precinct, received a serious flesh-wound on the right hip. His left knee was also badly injured, and his face was burned by the explosion. His injuries are of a very serious nature, and it is feared that he will lose his left leg. Patrolman John Savecool, also of the Eighth Precinct, was burned about the face and head, and it is feared that his eyesight is permanently injured. Patrolmen Hendricks, Regan, and Maher, also of the Eighth Precinct, received slight flesh wounds and had their clothing torn and burned. Roundsman Ranney also received a slight wound in the face. Harrington and Savercool were removed to the East Twenty-second Street Police Station, where they were attended by Police Surgeon Phelps, and subsequently taken to their homes. Sergt. Eakins and the other officers injured remained on duty until the close of the demonstration.

GOOD BROOKLYN CANDIDATES.

MEN WHO SHOULD BE ELECTED NEXT TUESDAY.

Mr. Herman Cottrell, the Republican candidate for Alderman in the Seventeenth Ward of Brooklyn, should be elected by a handsome majority. The ward has been counted Democratic, but Mr. Cottrell's long residence in that section of the city, and his high character, will secure for him many votes outside his own party. Mr. Stephen Clark, the Republican candidate for Supervisor in that ward, has already proved his fidelity to the people's interests while in public life, and should, like Mr. Cottrell, receive the vote of every advocate of reform in municipal government in the ward.

The chances of the election of Col. James Cavanagh, of the Sixty-ninth Regiment, in the Third Senatorial District are increasing every day. Recently a meeting was called in the Sixth Ward in the interest of his opponent, John C. Jacobs, but the audience turned it into a Cavanagh meeting, much to the disgust of Jacobs, who was about to deliver a speech in favor of himself and the other Ring candidates. By the election of Col. Cavanagh the interests of reform would be subserved.

When the Republicans of the Second Assembly District placed Mr. Jonathan Ogden in nomination they made a most excellent selection; but the Democrats, knowing the district to be Republican, have nominated a very respectable gentleman, who will poll a large vote, and against whom Mr. Ogden will have to work vigorously if he wishes to secure his election. Although the district is Republican by a good majority, it went Democratic last year.

A strong effort is being made by the Republicans and Reformers of Brooklyn to elevate the character of the Police Courts of Brooklyn. The Republicans have nominated for the Justiceships becoming vacant on the 1st of January next three reputable lawyers. Their names are Richard Marvin, Hubbard Hendrickson, and Wilbur F. Maben. The election of these gentlemen would lead in the direction of a much needed reform in the administration of law in the Justices' Courts.

The election of John Davies next Tuesday will secure for the Kings County Board of Supervisors a presiding officer who will take care that every bill which passes through his hands will be thoroughly examined before it receives his signature. No jobs inimical to the interests of the taxpayers will be carried through the board, if the veto power can stop them.

Reformers should remember that they will strike an effective blow at the Ring by voting for John W. Harmon and Samuel Hutchinson for Charity Commissioners in Kings County.

THE BROOKLYN DEMOCRACY.

M'LAUGHLIN'S FOLLOWERS IN THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The McLaughlin branch of the Brooklyn Democracy assembled in mass meeting at the Academy of Music last evening. Long before the hour of meeting Montague street was ablaze with the glare of calcium lights. A brass band, stationed on a wooden platform, tooted for the crowd, while further effort was made to attract the people by an elaborate display of fireworks. Inside the building there was a fair sprinkling of working men, but the main portion of the audience consisted of that class of "sturdy men" of whom McLaughlin boasted before the Democratic General Committee some days ago that he hired 300 of them at $2 a man to break up a Republican meeting. There was a difference so marked that no person could fail to notice it between the meeting which was held in the same building on last Saturday and that of last night. At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by ex-District Attorney Rodman, who said that there had been no stealing for the past three years in Brooklyn, and that the departments were all well filled by honest men who honestly administered their duties. When the band had ceased playing at the close of the Chairman's remarks a long "declaration of principles" was read by Major Gen. James B. Craig, of the Democratic General Committee. The document was a plaintive wail appealing to the people for support because the leaders of the party in Kings County had "unabated and to a man supported the nomination of Samuel J. Tilden," and a plea to the Governor by these same leaders for protection from the people in return for the support they had given him. Following the "declaration of principles" a list of Vice Presidents was read, and the gentlemen named were unanimously elected. The Chairman then introduced ex-Gov. Seymour, who was received with applause. Mr. Seymour spoke with extraordinary rapidity, as if he were anxious to get through as quickly as possible with a disagreeable task. He repeated little more than half of his printed speech, copies of which were furnished to the press. He said, among other things, that the Democrats did not steal from the National Treasury for the past ten years, but added significantly that during the time mentioned the Democrats had not possession of the National Government. The speech was not directed to show that the school question was principally at this time an issue in politics worthy of consideration, and that it had been brought into the campaign by the Republicans as a mere peace of political clap-trap. Lieut. Gov. Dorsheimer spoke at length on the canal question and in praise of Gov. Tilden's efforts for reform. A glowing eulogy was also passed by the speaker on Mr. Bigelow, who sat on the platform and listened to his praises with much apparent complacency. The meeting was then addressed by Mr. Bigelow, but the audience, when Mr. Dorsheimer ceased to speak, seemed to take no further interest in the proceedings, and a large number left the Academy. Short speeches were made from a wooden platform erected just outside the doors of the Academy by Gov. Seymour, Mr. Ed. Rowe, and others.

A FIRE CHIEF IN TROUBLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28.—At a session of the General Council to-night charges were preferred against George M. Levi, Chief of the Fire Department, by two ex-members. The first charge accuses him of making fraudulent entries in his accounts with the city. Second, that by the same he obtained payment of fraudulent claims, and the third charges neglect of duty. Mr. Levi has made an excellent fire chief, and the charges therefore occasion considerable surprise.

THE COLORADO ELECTION.

DENVER, Colorado, Oct. 28.—Additional returns from the late election show heavy gains by the Republicans, who will have at least two-thirds of the Constitutional Convention.

She landed in this country only three weeks ago, could not speak English, and is supposed to have committed suicide by jumping from a ferry-boat.

The International Pedestrian meeting will take place to-day and to-morrow at the New-York Athletic Club grounds. Superintendent Campbell has issued a general order to the Police directing them to take the usual precautions for the preservation of peace and good order at the polling places on election day.

Henry Held, of No. 249 Johnson avenue, was accidentally shot in the mouth and dangerously wounded by John Hoffman, while both were gunning in Shomaker's Woods, yesterday. The wounded man was taken to the Eastern District Hospital.

A second attempt was made yesterday afternoon to sail the regatta undertaken on Saturday at Prospect Park by the Long Island Model Yacht Association for the $50 cup. There was no race, however, as the wind was too light to enable the yachts to make the time required.

John Genetry, aged ten years, while going up stairs in School No. 33, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was crowded over the bannisters. He fell to the ground, a distance of ten feet, alighting on his head and receiving serious injuries. Genetry was removed to his home at No. 11 Moore street.

Justice William B. Howard, of East New-York, was convicted of malfeasance in office in the Court of Sessions yesterday, for having fined a man named Lynch $5 without warrant of law. There are two other indictments in the State courts against the prisoner, and one in the United States Courts for having unstamped cigars in his possession. Howard will be sentenced to-morrow.

It is proposed to commence very soon the construction of the new railroad intended to connect New-York with Rockaway and the towns of Kings County by direct steam communication. A ferry will ply between the Battery and Bay Ridge, and will connect with the road at the latter point. The stipulated subscription of $100,000 has already been obtained.

LONG ISLAND.

In July last John Horan, Treasurer of Long Island City, was indicted by the Grand Jury of that city for alleged embezzlement of the city funds. District Attorney Downing moved to have the indictments carried to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, but Judge Pearse denied the motion. On Friday the Grand Jury of the Court of Oyer and Terminer found two new indictments against Mr. Horan for embezzlement, and on Wednesday he was served with an order of arrest. He was released in $5,000 bail.

The Masonic Convention of the First District of New-York was convened at Patchogue, commencing on Wednesday evening and extending through Thursday, to meet R. W. George T. Raymond, the Grand Lecturer, and to see an exemplification of the work of the degrees. All the lodges in the district excepting three were represented, and a number of prominent Masons, including Rev. Charles W. Brown, present Deputy Division Grand Master, and R. W. L. Bradford Prince, Past Deputy Division Grand Master, were present.

NEW-JERSEY.

An unknown man, supposed to be a tramp, was run over and killed on Wednesday night on a branch road of the Morris and Essex Railroad, at Newton.

James B. Farnham, of New-York, was arrested in Newark on Wednesday night, on a charge of falsely representing himself to be an officer and attempting to seize a piano at the residence of Mr. Moran, at Montclair, on which he had a chattel mortgage. He was held for examination.

The Common Council of West Hoboken has prepared a petition to be sent to the Board of Freeholders, asking for the discharge of Meehan, who was committed to the County Jail for thirty days for drunkenness and fighting. Meehan is the man who broke out of the jail and afterward surrendered himself. The Council want him released, because if he is kept a prisoner the town will have to support his family.

The trial of Michael Keenan for the killing of Officer Reupp in Trenton, some months ago, was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Mercer County County. In his charge to the jury Chief Justice Beasley advised them that if they considered the attempted arrest of Keenan a legal one they could find him guilty of murder in the first or second degree, but if it was illegal the crime was manslaughter. The jury retired at 3 o'clock, and after a brief absence returned with a verdict of manslaughter. Ex-Senator Stockton and Col. Barton were counsel for the prisoner, and the Attorney General for the State.

THE WRESTLERS.

Prof. William Miller, who defeated Andre Christol in the Greco-Roman wrestling match for $1,000 and the championship of America, at the Grand Opera-house, Oct. 12, is hard at work preparing himself for the second match, which comes off on Tuesday evening, Nov. 9. Christol, who is in close training near Philadelphia, feels very confident that his science and experience in wrestling will prove more than an offset to Miller's greater strength and weight. A number of Philadelphians, aware of Christol's presence, have offered a purse to be wrestled for at Assembly Building, Philadelphia, this evening. Emile Regnier, also a thorough wrestler, being his opponent. In order to show Christol to his full advantage, the conditions of the contest are that Regnier shall be declared the winner if he wins two falls out of four.

THE POLITICAL EXCITEMENT permeates all classes of society, rivaling the popular demand for Knox's beautiful HATS, expressly manufactured for the Fall and Winter season. A few days will put an end to the former. The Knox hat is a thing of beauty and a joy—until it is worn out.
